PSALM I. Common Metre.

The way and end of the righteous and wicked.

1. HOW blest is he, who ne'er consents
By ill advice to walk;
Nor stands in sinners ways, nor sits
Where men profanely talk:
2. But makes the perfect law of God
His study and delight;
Devoutly reads therein by day,
And meditates by night!
3. He'll flourish still, like some fair tree
With waters near its root;
Fresh as the leaf his name shall live,
His works are heav'nly fruit.
4. Not so the impious and unjust;
They no such blessings find;

Their hopes shall flee, like empty chaff
Before the driving wind.

5. No hypocrite shall dare to stand

Before GOD's judgment-seat,

When all the saints, at his right-hand,
In full assembly meet.

6. For GOD approves the good man's ways ;

To happiness they tend ;

But sinners, and the paths they tread,
Shall both in ruin end.

PSALM II. Common Metre.

A prophecy of the MESSIAH's kingdom.

1. ATTEND, O earth, the fix'd decree,

And learn JEHOVAH's will :

“ Thou art my son, fit thou supreme

“ On Zion's sacred hill.

2. “ My hand shall give to thee alone

“ The heathens wide domain ;

“ And earth's remotest ends shall own

“ Thy universal reign.

3. “ Who will not to thy scepter bow

“ Shall feel thine iron rod,

“ And, crush'd in helpless ruin, show

“ The justice of a GOD.”

4. Be wise, ye princes, learn to fear

The pow'r of pow'rs supreme ;

With awful trembling joy revere

The LORD's exalted name.

5. Receive the Son with due respect ;

Your timely homage pay ;

Lest he revenge the bold neglect,
Incens'd by your delay.

6. If but in part his anger rise,
Who can endure the flame?

Then blest are they whose hope relies
On his most holy name.

PSALM IV. Common Metre.

Integrity and piety the support of good men.

1. THE righteous LORD loves upright souls;
He marks them for his own;
And, when he hears their humble pray'r,
Bends from his gracious throne.

2. Then will I fear his sacred name,
Nor dare oppose his will;
Commune in secret with my heart,
And bid each thought be still.

3. And while my willing hands present
This off'ring to the LORD,
My soul defies each threat'ning ill,
And trusts his faithful word.

4. While thousands search for bliss on earth
And search, alas! in vain;
Be mine the joys his favour gives;
Let me his smiles obtain.

5. One smile from thee, my gracious God,
Bids all my pow'rs rejoice;
Not all the pleasures earth can yield
Should change my happy choice.

6. Secure beneath thy guardian hand,
I give mine eyes to sleep;

That

That hand protects my wakeful hours,
And will my slumbers keep.

P S A L M V. Common Metre.

For the LORD's Day Morning.

1. L ORD, in the morning thou shalt hear
My voice ascending high ;
To thee will I direct my pray'r ;
To thee lift up mine eye.
2. Thou art a GOD before whose sight
The wicked shall not stand ;
Sinners shall ne'er be thy delight,
Nor dwell at thy right hand.
3. But to thy house will I resort,
To taste thy mercy there ;
I will frequent thine holy court,
And worship in thy fear.
4. O may thy spirit guide my feet
In ways of righteousness ;
Make ev'ry path of duty straight
And plain before my face.
5. The men who love and fear thy name
Shall see their hopes fulfill'd ;
The mighty GOD will compass them
With favour as a shield.

P S A L M VIII. Long Metre.

The condescending Goodness of GOD to Men.

1. O LORD, how glorious is thy name,
Thro' all the earth's extended frame !
Majestic splendors form thy seat
And heav'n adores beneath thy feet.

2. When

5. Who to his plighted vows and trust
Has ever firmly stood ;
And tho' he promise to his loss,
Still makes his promise good.
6. Who seeks not by oppressive ways
His wealth to multiply ;
Whom no rewards can ever bribe,
The guiltless to destroy.
7. The man who, by this steady course,
Has happiness insur'd,
When earth's foundation shakes, shall stand,
By providence secur'd.

P S A L M XVI. Common Metre.

Rejoicing in God.

1. HEATHENS to senseless idols haste ;
They worship wood and stone ;
But my delightful lot is cast
Where the true God is known.
2. His hand provides my constant food,
He fills my daily cup ;
Much am I pleas'd with present good,
But more rejoice in hope.
3. GOD is my portion and my joy ;
His counsels are my light ;
He gives me kind advice by day,
And guards my head by night.
4. My soul would all her thoughts approve
To his all-seeing eye ;
Nor death nor hell my hope shall move,
While such a friend is nigh.

5. Therefore, my heart all grief defies;
In death I will rejoice;

My flesh shall rest in hope to rise,
Wak'd by his pow'rtful voice.

6. God will the paths of life display,
Which to his presence lead,

Where pleasure flows without allay,
And joy shall never fade.

PSALM XVIII. Common Metre.

A public thanksgiving for victory.

1. WHEN God our leader shines in arms,
What mortal heart can bear
The thunder of his loud alarms,
The light'ning of his spear?

2. He speaks, and at his fierce rebuke
Whole armies are dismay'd;
His voice, his frown, his angry look,
Strikes all their courage dead.

3. He forms our gen'als for the field,
With all their dreadful skill;
Instructs their hands the sword to wield,
And makes their hearts of steel.

4. 'Tis by his aid our troops prevail,
And break united pow'rs;
Or burn their boasted fleets, or scale
The proudest of their tow'rs.

5. The LORD our Saviour ever lives;
His name be ever blest;
'Tis his own arm the vict'ry gives,
And gives our country rest.

6. On kings who reign as David did
 He pours his blessings down ;
 Secures their honours to their seed,
 And well supports their crown.

P S A L M XIX. Short Metre.

The instructions of nature and revelation.

1. BEHOLD the lofty sky
 Declares its Maker GOD ;
 And all his starry works on high
 Proclaim his pow'r abroad.
2. The darkness and the light
 Still keep their course the same ;
 While night to day and day to night
 Divinely teach his name.
3. In ev'ry diff'rent land
 Their gen'ral voice is known ;
 They speak the wonders of his hand,
 The orders of his throne.
4. He bids the morning sun
 Begin his glorious way ;
 His beams thro' all the nations run
 And light and life convey.
5. But where he sends his word
 He spreads diviner light ;
 There sinners learn to know the LORD,
 And guide their steps aright.
6. His laws are just and pure ;
 His truth without deceit ;
 His promise stands for ever sure,
 And his rewards are great.

7. While with my heart and tongue
 I spread thy praise abroad ;
 Accept the worship and the song,
 My Saviour and my God.

P S A L M XXII. Long Metre.

The sufferings of MESSIAH.

1. NOW let our mournful songs record
 The dying sorrows of our Lord,
 When he complain'd in tears and blood,
 As one forsaken of his God.
2. The Jews beheld him thus forlorn,
 And shak'd their heads, and laugh'd in scorn:
 " He rescu'd others from the grave ;
 " Now let him try himself to save.
3. " This is the man did once pretend
 " God was his Father and his friend ;
 " If God the blessed lov'd him so,
 " Why doth he fail to help him now ?"
4. Barbarous people ! Cruel priests ?
 How they stood round like savage beasts,
 Like lions gaping to devour,
5. They wound his head, his hands, his feet,
 Till streams of blood each other meet :
 By lot his garments they divide,
 And mock the pangs in which he dy'd.
6. But God his Father heard his cry ;
 Rais'd from the dead he reigns on high ;
 The nations learn his righteousness,
 And humble sinners taste his grace.

P S A L M XXIII. Long Metre.

G O D our shepherd.

1. MY shepherd is the living LORD;
My wants shall all be well supply'd:
His providence and holy word
Become my safety and my guide.
2. In pastures where salvation grows,
He makes me feed, he makes me rest;
There living water gently flows,
And all the food's divinely blest.
3. My wand'ring feet his ways mistake;
But he restores my soul to peace,
And leads me for his mercy's sake,
In the fair paths of righteousness.
4. Tho' I walk thro' the gloomy vale,
Where death and all its terrors are;
My heart and hope shall never fail:
For GOD my shepherd's with me there.
5. Amidst the darkness and the deeps,
He is my comfort, he my stay;
His staff supports my feeble steps;
His rod directs my doubtful way.
6. Surely the mercies of the LORD
Attend his children all their days;
Then shall his house be mine abode,
And all my work be pray'r and praise.

P S A L M XXIV. Common Metre.

Access to GOD in worship.

1. THE earth for ever is the LORD's,
With Adam's num'rous race;
He rais'd its arches o'er the floods,
And built it on the seas.

2. But

2. But who among the sons of men
May visit his abode? ———
He that has hands from mischief clean,
Whose heart is right with God.
3. This is the man may rise and take
The blessing of his grace;
This is the lot of those who seek
Their heav'nly Father's face.
4. Now let our souls' immortal pow'rs,
To meet the LORD prepare;
Lift up their everlasting doors;
The King of Glory's near.
5. The King of Glory! who can tell
The wonders of his might?
He rules the nations; but to dwell
With saints is his delight.

PSALM XXV. Short Metre.

G O D the guide of his servants.

1. WHOE'ER, with humble fear,
To God his duty pays,
Shall find the LORD a faithful guide
In all his righteous ways.
2. For God to all his saints
His holy will imparts;
And will his gracious cov'nant write
In their obedient hearts.
3. He those in virtue guides
Who his direction seek;
And in his sacred paths will lead
The humble and the meek.
4. Thro'

4. Thro' all the ways of GOD
Both truth and mercy shine,

To his blest will incline.

Nor frown my soul away ;
GOD of my life, I fly to thee

Leave me to want or die ;
My GOD would make my life his care,
And all my need supply.

4. My fainting heart had dy'd for grief,
Had not my soul believ'd
To see thy grace provide relief ;
Nor was my hope deceiv'd.

5. Wait on the LORD, ye trembling saints,
And keep your courage up ;
He'll raise your spirit when it faints,
And far exceed your hope.

P S A L M XXIX. Long Metre.

G O D the thunderer.

1. GIVE to the LORD, ye sons of fame,
Give to the LORD, renown and pow'r:
Ascribe due honours to his name,
And his eternal might adore.
2. JEHOVAH, with an awful noise,
The watry clouds afunder breaks:
The ocean trembles at his voice,
When GOD from heav'n in thunder speaks.
3. How full of pow'r that voice appears,
With what majestic terror crown'd,
Which from their roots tall cedars tears,
And strews their scatter'd branches round!
4. That voice the solid oaks can shake,
And strip the spreading forests bare:
His glory hear it loudly speak,
And thro' the heav'ns his pow'r declare.
5. The LORD sits sov'reign on the flood;
The thund'rer reigns for ever king;
But makes his church his blest abode,
Where we his awful glories sing.

The settled purpose of his heart
For ever shall endure.

He form'd their hearts, he knows their ways;
But God their Maker is unknown.

2. Let kings rely upon their host,
And of his strength the champion boast;
In vain they boast, in vain rely;
In vain we trust the brutal force,
Or speed or courage of an horse,
To guard his rider or to fly.

3. The eye of thy compassion, LORD,
Doth more secure defence afford,
When deaths or dangers threat'ning stand;
Thy watchful eye preserves the just,
Who make thy name their fear and trust,
When wars or famine waste the land.

4. In sickness or the bloody field,

Great are the wonders of thy hands;
Thy judgments are a mighty deep.
3. Thy mercy makes the earth its care;
Thy providence is kind and large;
Angels and men thy bounty share;
The whole creation is thy charge.
4. Since of thy goodness all partake,
With what assurance may the just
Thy shelt'ring wings their refuge make,
And saints to thy protection trust?
5. Such guests shall to thy courts be led,
And there enjoy a rich repast;
There drink, as from a fountain's head,
Of joys which shall for ever last.
6. With thee the springs of life remain;

Are order'd by thy will ;
Tho' they should fall, they rise again,
Thy hand supports them still.
2. The LORD delights to see their ways ;
Their virtue he approves ;
He'll ne'er deprive them of his grace,
Nor leave the men he loves.
3. The heav'nly heritage is theirs,
Their portion and their home ;
He feeds them now, and makes them heirs
Of blessings long to come.
4. The haughty sinner have I seen,
Nor fearing man or GOD,
Like a tall bay-tree fair and green,
Spreading its arms abroad :
5. And lo, he vanish'd from the ground,
Destroy'd by hands unseen ;
Nor root, nor branch, nor leaf was found,
Where all the pride had been.
6. But mark the man of righteousness,
His sev'ral steps attend ;

1. TEACH me the measure of my days,
Thou Maker of my frame ;

- I would survey life's narrow space,
And learn how frail I am.
2. A span is all that we can boast,
An inch or two of time;
Man is but vanity and dust
In all his flow'r and prime.
3. See the vain race of mortals move
Like shadows o'er the plain,
They rage and strive, desire and love,
But all the noise is vain.
4. Some walk in honour's gaudy show;
Some dig for shining ore;
They toil for heirs they know not who,
And straight are seen no more.
5. What should I wish or wait for then
From creatures, earth and dust?
They make our expectations vain,
And disappoint our trust.
6. Now I forbid my carnal hope,
My fond desires recall;
I give my mortal interest up,
And make my God my all.

P S A L M XL. Common Metre.

The obedience of the MESSIAH.

" My God, to do thy will;
" What

- “ Whate’er thy sacred books declare,

 Ride with majestic sway ;

Thy

- Thy terror shall strike thro' thy foes,
And make the world obey.
4. Thy throne, O GOD, for ever stands;
Thy word of grace shall prove
A peaceful sceptre in thine hands,
To rule thy saints by love.

Supplies the city of our GOD;
Life, love, and joy still gliding thro',
And wat'ring our divine abode.
5. That sacred stream, thine holy word,
Supports our hope, our fear controuls;
Sweet

Sweet peace thy promises afford,
And give new strength to fainting souls.

PSALM L. Section 1st. Proper Tune.

The last judgment.

1. THE GOD of glory sends his summons forth, Calls the south nations, and awakes the north :

From east to west the sov'reign order's spread,
Thro' distant worlds and regions of the dead.
*The trumpet sounds : hell trembles ; heav'n rejoices ;
Lift up your heads, ye saints, with chearful voices.*

2. No more shall atheists mock his long delay ;
His vengeance sleeps no more : behold the day ;
Behold the judge descends ; his guards are nigh ;
Tempests and fire attend him round the sky.
*When GOD appears, all nature shall adore him ;
While sinners tremble, saints rejoice before him.*

3. " Heav'n, earth, and hell draw near ; let all things come,

" To hear my justice and the sinner's doom ;
" But gather first my saints (the judge commands)
" Bring them, ye angels, from their distant lands."
*Our GOD is come : wake every chearful passion,
And shout, ye saints, he comes for your salvation.*

4. " Here (saith the LORD) ye angels, spread their thrones,

" And near me seat my fav'rites and my sons :--
" Come my belov'd, possess the joys prepar'd
" E'er time began ; 'tis your divine reward."
*Judgment proceeds : ye saints, join all your voices ;
Raise your triumphant songs, for heav'n rejoices.--*

5. " Approach my throne, ye wicked and profane,
 " Receive your doom, nor call my threatnings vain :

" No longer lodge the impious thought within,

" That the All-holy will indulge your sin :"

*GOD is the judge of hearts : no fair disguises
 Can screen the guilty, when his vengeance rises.*

6. Silent I waited with long-suff'ring love ;

" You vainly hop'd that I should ne'er reprove;

" But see, my vengeance wakes ; my thunder rolls ; [souls."

" And conscious guilt condemns your wretched
*Judgment concludes ; hell trembles ; heav'n rejoices ;

 " And flocks and herds are mine ;

" O'er all the cattle of the hills

" I claim a right divine.

2. " I ask no sheep for sacrifice,

" Nor bullocks burnt with fire ;

" To hope and love, to pray and praise,

" Is all that I require.

3. Call upon me when trouble's near,

" My hand shall set thee free ;

" Then shall thy thankful lips declare

" The honour due to me.

4. The man who offers humble praise,

" He glorifies me best :

" And

“ And those who tread my holy ways
 “ Shall my salvation taste.”

P S A L M LI. Long Metre.

A penitential psalm.

1. O GOD of grace, my crimes forgive ;
 Let a repenting sinner live ;
 Behold me not with angry look,
 But blot their mem'ry from thy book.
2. O wash my soul from ev'ry sin,
 And make my guilty conscience clean ;
 Here on my heart the burden lies,
 And past offences pain mine eyes.
3. Before thee, O my GOD, alone
 The heinous deeds of guilt were done ;
 Before thee, prostrate in the dust,
 I own thine awful sentence just.
4. I might be banish'd from thy face,
 Like the vile offspring of disgrace ;
 And, like a base and spurious birth,
 Be made the shame and scorn of earth.
5. That inward truth thy laws require
 Thy righteous judgments, LORD, inspire ;
 Oppress'd with deep remorse I lie,
 Beneath thine heart-discerning eye.
6. No rites can ease my secret pain,
 Or wash away the guilty stain ;
 Only thy mercy can impart
 Pardon and comfort to my heart.
7. LORD, cast me not in wrath away,
 Nor hide thy spirit's chearing ray ;

The joys thy favour gives restore,
And guard me that I fall no more.

8. A broken heart, my God, my King,
Is all the off'ring I can bring;
The God of grace will ne'er despise
A broken heart for sacrifice.

PSALM LV. Common Metre.

Daily devotion.

1. LET sinners take their foolish course,
And choose the road to death;
But in the worship of my God
I'll spend my daily breath.
2. By morning-light I'll seek his face;
At noon repeat my cry;
The night shall hear me ask his grace,
Nor will he long deny.
3. God shall preserve my soul from fear,
Or shield me when afraid;
And guardian angels shall be near,
If he command their aid.
4. With all my troubles and my cares
I'll lean upon the LORD;
I'll cast my burdens on his arm,
And rest upon his word.
5. His pow'rful arm shall well sustain
The children of his love;
The ground on which their safety rests
No earthly pow'r can move.

P S A L M LVII. Long Metre.

A general act of praise.

1. BE thou exalted, O my God,
Above the heav'ns where angels dwell;
Thy pow'r on earth be known abroad,
And land to land thy wonders tell.
2. My heart is fix'd; my tongue shall raise
Immortal honours to thy name;
Awake my tongue to sound his praise,
My tongue, the glory of my frame.
3. In thee, my God, are all the springs
Of boundless love, and grace unknown;
All the rich blessings nature brings
Are gifts descending from thy throne.
4. High o'er the earth thy goodness reigns,
And reaches to the utmost sky;
'Thy truth to endless years remains,
When lower worlds dissolve and die.
5. Be thou exalted, O my God,
Above the heav'ns where angels dwell;
Thy pow'r on earth be known abroad,
And land to land thy wonders tell.

P S A L M LX. Common Metre.

For a fast day in time of war.

1. LORD, hast thou cast the nation off?
Must we for ever mourn?
Wilt thou indulge immortal wrath?
Shall mercy ne'er return?
2. The terror of one frown of thine
Melts all our strength away;

Like

Like men that totter drunk with wine,
We tremble in dismay.

3. The kingdom shakes beneath thy stroke,
And dreads thy threat'ning hand;

O heal the nation thou hast broke;
Confirm the wav'ring land.

4. Lift up a banner in the field
For those who fear thy name;
Protect thy servants with thy shield,
And put our foes to shame.

5. Go with our armies to the fight,
Like a confed'rate God;
In vain confed'rate pow'rs unite
Against thy lifted rod,

6. Our troops shall gain a wide renown
By thine assisting hand;

'Tis God who treads the mighty down,
And makes the feeble stand.

P S A L M LXI. Short Metre.

Safety in G O D.

1. WHEN, overwhelm'd with grief,
My heart within me dies,
Helpless, and far from all relief,
To heav'n I lift mine eyes.

2. O lead me to the rock
That's high above my head,
And make the covert of thy wings
My shelter and my shade.

3. Within thy presence, LORD,
I ever would abide;

Thou

Thou art the tow'r of my defence,
The refuge where I hide.

4. Thou givest me the lot
Of those who fear thy name ;
If endless life be their reward,
I shall possess the same.

P S A L M LXII. Long Metre.

Confidence in G O D, not in creatures.

1. MY spirit looks to God alone ;
My rock and refuge is his throne ;
In all my fears, in all my straits,
My soul on his salvation waits.
2. Trust him, ye saints, in all your ways ;
Pour out your hearts before his face ;
When helpers fail, and foes invade,
God is our all-sufficient aid.
3. False are the men of high degree ;
The meaner sort are vanity ;
Both, in the scale of truth, appear
Light as a puff of empty air.
4. Make not encreasing gold your trust ;
Nor set your hearts on glitt'ring dust :
Why will you grasp the fleeting smoke,
And not believe what God hath spoke ?
5. Once hath his awful voice declar'd,
Once and again mine ears have heard,
" All pow'r is his eternal due ;
" He must be fear'd and trusted too."
6. For sov'reign pow'r reigns not alone ;
Grace is a partner of the throne :

Thy

Thy grace and justice, mighty LORD,
Shall well appoint our last reward.

PSALM LXIII. As the 113th Psalm.

For the Lord's day morning.

1. TO thee, my God, without delay,
My morning homage I will pay;
For thee I long, to thee I look:
So travellers in desert lands,
'Midst sultry gleams and scorching sands,
Pant for the cooling water brook.
2. Within thy courts I've seen thy pow'r,
And learn'd to prize the favour more
Than life itself with all its joys:
There let thy smiles again appear,
Again my drooping spirit cheer,
And to thy praise attune my voice:
3. Not all the dainties of a feast,
Can give such pleasures to my taste,
As from thy sacred presence spring;
Then till my last expiring day,
I'll lift my hands to praise and pray,
And tune my joyful lips to sing.
4. When darkness calls my pow'rs to rest,
Faith in thy goodness makes me blest;
And, 'midst the wakeful hours of night,
With joy I see thy mercy spread
Its guardian wings around my head,
And fearless wait the morning light.

PSALM

P S A L M LXV. Section 1st. Long Metre.The goodness of GOD in the seasons of the year.

1. TH' Almighty bids the morning ray,
Smile in the east and bring the day;
He guides the sun's declining wheels
Over the tops of western hills.
2. Seasons and times obey his voice;
The evening and the morn rejoice
To see the earth made soft with show'rs,
Laden with fruit, and drest in flow'rs.
3. 'Tis from his wat'ry stores on high,
He gives the thirsty ground supply;
He walks upon the clouds, and thence
Doth his enriching drops dispense.
4. The desert grows a fruitful field;
Abundant fruit the vallies yield;
The vallies shout with chearful voice,
And neighb'ring hills repeat the joys.
5. The pastures smile in green array;
There lambs and larger cattle play;
The larger cattle and the lamb
Each in its language speaks his name.
6. His works pronounce his pow'r divine;
O'er ev'ry field his glories shine;
Thro' ev'ry month his gifts appear:—
Great God, thy goodness crowns the year.

And bids the grass appear.

2. The clouds, like rivers rais'd on high,
Pour out, at his command,
Their wat'ry blessings from the sky,
To cheer the thirsty land.

3. The soften'd ridges of the field
Permit the corn to spring;
The vallies rich provision yield,
And the poor labourers sing.

4. The little hills, on ev'ry side,
Rejoice at falling show'rs;
The meadows, dress'd in all their pride,
Perfume the air with flow'rs.

5. The barren clods, refresh'd with rain,
Promise a joyful crop;
The parching grounds look green again,
And raise the reaper's hope.

6. The various months GOD's goodness crown;
How bounteous are his ways!
The bleating flocks spread o'er the downs,
And shepherds shout his praise.

“ Before thy face thy foes must fly,
 “ Or at thy feet must bow.”

 His sov'reign pow'r confess ;
 In solemn hymns your inward dread
 Of his great name express.
4. He made the ebbing channel dry,
 While Israel pass'd the flood ;
 Th' astonish'd tribes pursu'd their way,
 And triumph'd in their God.
5. God by his pow'r for ever rules ;
 His eyes the world survey ;
 Let no presumptuous mortal dare
 Oppose his sov'reign sway.
6. O bless our God, and never cease ;
 Ye saints, fulfil his praise ;
 He keeps our lives, maintains our peace,
 And guides our doubtful ways.

 Who rides upon the rolling spheres.
2. Those who obey his sov'reign will
 His favour's chearing beams enjoy ;
 Their upright hearts let gladness fill,
 And grateful songs their tongues employ.
3. Ascribe ye pow'r to God most high ;
 Of humble souls his hand takes care,

Whose strength, from out the dusky sky,
Darts shining terrors thro' the air.

4. Tho' glory fills his heav'nly courts,
There hath he fix'd his gracious throne;
His arm the feeblest faint supports;
To God give praise, to him alone.

With all these limbs of mine;
And from my mother's painful hour
I've been entirely thine.
3. Still has my life new wonder seen
With each returning year:
Behold the days that yet remain,
I trust them to thy care.
4. Cast me not off when strength declines
When hoary hairs arise;
And round me let thy goodness shine
Whene'er thy servant dies.
5. Then in the hist'ry of my age,
When men review my days,
They'll read thy love in ev'ry page,
In ev'ry line thy praise.

All heav'n submits to his commands;
His justice shall avenge the poor,
And pride and rage prevail no more.
3. With pow'r he vindicates the just,
And treads th' oppressor in the dust;
His worship and his fear shall last,
Till hours and years and time be past.
4. As rain on meadows newly mown,
So shall he send his influence down:
His grace on fainting souls distils,
Like heav'nly dew on thirsty hills.
5. The heathen lands, that lie beneath
The shades of over-spreading death,
Revive at his first dawning light,
And deserts blossom at the sight.

'Twould be no joy to me ;

And, while this earth is my abode,
I long for none but thee.

4. What if the fprings of life were broke,
And flefh and heart fhould faint ;

GOD is my foul's eternal rock,
The ftrength of ev'ry faint.

5. To raife my thoughts to thee, my God,

Which GOD perform'd of old ;
Which in our younger years we faw,
And which our fathers told.

2. He bids us make his glories known,
His works of pow'r and grace ;
And we'll convey his wonders down
Thro' ev'ry rifing race.

3. Our lips fhall tell them to our fons,
And they again to theirs ;

That

That generations yet unborn
 May teach them to their heirs.
 4. Thus shall they learn, in God alone
 Their hope securely stands ;
 That they may ne'er forget his works,
 But practise his commands.

PSALM LXXXIV. As the 148th Psalm.
The pleasures of public worship.

1. LORD of the worlds above,
 How pleasant and how fair
 The dwellings of thy love,
 Thine earthly temples are!
     To thine abode
     My heart aspires,
     With warm desires
     To see my God.
2. To spend one sacred day
 Where God and saints abide,
 Affords diviner joy
 Than thousand days beside ;
     Where God resorts,
     I love it more
     To keep the door
     Than shine in courts.
3. For God his people loves,
 His hand no good with-holds
 From those his heart approves,
 From pure and pious souls ;
     Thrice blest is he,
     O LORD of hosts,
     Whose spirit trusts
     Alone in thee.

4. O happy souls that pray
 Where God appoints to hear!
 O happy men who pay
 Their constant service there!
     They praise thee still:
     And happy they
     Who love the way
     To Zion's hill.
5. They go from strength to strength
 Thro' this dark vale of tears,
 Till each arrives at length,
 Till each in heav'n appears;

     When God our king
     Shall thither bring
     Our willing Feet!

2. Thine answer patiently we'll wait,
 For thou with glad success,
 If they no more to folly turn,
     Thy mourning saints wilt bless.
3. To those who fear thy holy name
     Is thy salvation near;
 And in its former happy state
     Our nation shall appear.

4. For mercy now with truth is join'd ;
And righteousness with peace.
Like kind companions absent long,
With friendly arms embrace.
5. Truth from the earth shall spring, whilst heav'n
Shall streams of justice pour ;
And God, from whom all goodness flows,
Shall endless plenty show'r.
6. Before him righteousness shall march,
And his just paths prepare ;
While we his holy steps pursue
With constant zeal and care.

PSALM LXXXVI. Common Metre.

There's none hath pow'r divine ;
Nor is their nature, mighty LORD,
Nor are their works like thine.
2. Thy matchless pow'r, thy sov'reign sway,
The Nations shall adore ;
Their long misguided pray'rs and praise
To thee, O GOD, restore.
3. All shall confess thee great, and great
The wonders thou hast done ;
Shall own that thou art GOD supreme,
That thou art God alone.
4. While heav'n, and all who dwell on high,
To thee their voices raise,
Let the whole earth assist the sky,
And join t' advance thy praise.

PSALM LXXXIX. Section 1st. Long Metre.
The truth of GOD in the promise of the MESSIAH.

1. FOR ever shall my song record
 The truth and mercy of the LORD;
 Mercy and truth for ever stand,
 Like heav'n supported by his hand,
2. JEHOVAH speaks, with gracious voice:
 "David, the servant of my choice,
 "Receive the cov'nant of my love,
 "Nor doubt the pow'r which reigns above.
3. "While earth and seas and skies remain,
 "Thy seed thro' endless years shall reign;
 "He is my chosen king; his throne
 "Shall stand unshaken as mine own."
4. The words eternal love hath spoke,
 Eternal truth will ne'er revoke;
 The cov'nant stands for ever sure;
 The throne for ever shall endure.
5. Then let the God of truth and grace
 Be prais'd by all the heav'n-born race;
 And let assembled faints below
 Present the songs of praise they owe.

PSALM LXXXIX. Seet. 2d. Common Metre.
The power and majesty of GOD.

1. WITH rev'rence let the faints appear
 And bow before the LORD,
 His high commands with rev'rence hear,
 And tremble at his word.
2. How wonderful thy glories be!
 How bright thine armies shine!

Where

- Where is the pow'r that vies with thee,
Or truth compar'd with thine ?
3. The northern pole and southern reit
On thy supporting hand ;
Darkness and day, from east to west,
Move round at thy command.
4. Thy words the raging winds controul,
And rule the boist'rous deep ;
Thou mak'st the sleeping billows roll,
The rolling billows sleep.
5. Heav'n, earth, and air and sea are thine,
And the dark world of hell :
How can thine arm in vengeance shine,
When mortals dare rebel !
6. Justice and judgment are thy throne ;
Yet wond'rous is thy grace ;
While truth and mercy, join'd in one,
Invite us near thy face :
7. Thrice happy are the souls who know
Their kind inviting voice ;
Peace shall attend the path they go,
Who in thy name rejoice.

PSALM XC. Common Metre.

GOD eternal, and man mortal.

1. O GOD, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come ;
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home !
2. Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth receiv'd her frame,

From everlasting thou art God ;
To endless years the same.

3. A thousand ages, in thy sight,
Are like an ev'ning gone ;

Short as the watch that ends the night,
Before the rising sun.

4. The busy tribes of flesh and blood,
With all their lives and cares,
Are carried downwards by the flood,
And lost in following years.

5. Time, like an ever-rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away ;
They fly, forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the op'ning day.

6. Like flow'ry fields the nations stand,
Pleas'd with the morning-light ;
The flow'rs, beneath the mower's hand,
Lie with'ring ere 'tis night.

7. So teach us, LORD, the heav'nly art
T' improve the hours we have,
That we may act the wiser part,
And live beyond the grave.

2. No ill shall enter where you dwell ;
Or if the plague come nigh,

And

And sweep the wicked down to hell,
'Twill raise the saints on high.

3. He'll give his angels charge to keep
Your feet in all your ways;
To watch your pillow while you sleep,
And guard your happy days.

4. " Because on me they set their love,
" I'll save them (saith the LORD)
" I'll bear their joyful souls above
" Destruction and the sword.

5. " My grace shall answer when they call;
" In trouble I'll be nigh:
" My pow'r shall help them when they fall,

And with repeated hymns of praise
His name to magnify!

2. With ev'ry morning's early dawn,
His goodness to relate;
And of his constant truth, each night,
The glad effects repeat.

3. How wond'rous are thy works, O LORD,
How deep are thy decrees!

Whose

Whose winding track, in secret laid,
No thoughtless sinner sees.

4. Tho' wicked men, like blooming flow'rs,
A while look fresh and gay ;

Soon must the short-liv'd beauty fade,
Their glory pass away.

5. But those who keep the laws of God,
Within his courts shall thrive ;
Their vigour and their fruitfulness
Shall in old-age revive.

2. Ere rolling worlds began to move,
Or ere the heav'ns were stretch'd abroad,
Thine awful throne was fix'd above ;
From everlasting thou art God.

3. The floods, O LORD, lift up their voice,
And toss their troubled waves on high ;
But God above can still the noise,
And make the angry sea comply.

4. Thy sov'reign laws are ever sure ;
And those who in thy presence dwell,

That

And in his strength rejoice;
When his salvation is our theme
Exalted be our voice.
2. With thanks approach his awful sight,
And psalms of honour sing;
The LORD's a GOD of boundless might,
The whole creation's King.
3. Let princes hear, let angels know,
How mean their natures seem,
Those gods on high, and gods below,
When once compar'd with him.
4. Earth, with its caverns dark and deep,
Lies in his spacious hand;
He fix'd what bounds the seas should keep,
And where the hills must stand.
5. Come, and with humble souls adore,
Come, kneel before his face;
Then shall the creatures of his pow'r
Be children of his grace.

PSALM XCVI. Proper Metre.

GOD the sovereign ruler and judge.

1. SING to the LORD a joyful song;
Let earth, in one assembled throng,
Her common patron's praise resound:

Sing

Sing to the LORD, and bleſs his name,
From day to day his praife proclaim,
Who hath the world with bleſſings crown'd ;
To heathen lands his fame rehearſe,
His wonders to the univerſe.

2. Great is the LORD : his praife be great
Who ſits on high enthron'd in ſtate ;
To him alone let anthems riſe :
The gods the heathen world adore,
In vain pretend to ſov'reign pow'r ;
He only rules who made the ſkies ;
With majeſty and honour crown'd,
Beauty and ſtrength his throne ſurround.

3. Proclaim aloud, " JEHOVAH reigns,
" Whoſe pow'r the univerſe ſuſtains,
" And baniſh'd juſtice will reſtore ;"
Let therefore heav'n new joys confeſs,
And heav'nly mirth let earth expreſs ;
Its loud applauſe the ocean roar ;
Its mute inhabitants rejoice,
And for this triumph find a voice.

4. For joy let fertile vallies ſing,
And chearful groves their tribute bring :
Let ev'ry human voice awake,
The LORD's approach to celebrate,
Who will appear in awful ſtate,
And thro' the earth his circuit take ;
From heav'n to judge the world will come,
With juſtice to reward or doom.

 Not Sinai on her base could stand,
 Conscious of sov'reign pow'r at hand.
4. What pow'r could make the deep divide ?
 Make Jordan backward roll his tide ?
 Why did ye leap, ye little hills ?
 And whence the fright that Sinai feels ?

 Retire and know th' approaching God,
 The king of Israel : see him here ;
 Tremble thou earth, adore and fear.

My heart and flesh with all their pow'rs.
2. My thoughts, before they are my own,
Are to my God distinctly known;
He knows the words I mean to speak,
Ere from my op'ning lips they break.
3. Surrounded by thy pow'r I stand;
On ev'ry side I find thine hand:
O skill for human reach too high!
Too dazzling bright for mortal eye!

To quit thy service and thy love;
Where, LORD, could I thine influence shun,
Or whither from thy presence run.
5. If up to heav'n I take my flight,
'Tis there thou dwell'st enthron'd in light;
Or dive to hell's infernal plains,
'Tis there thy dreadful vengeance reigns.
6. If, mounted on a morning-ray,
I fly beyond the western sea,
Thy swifter hand would first arrive,
And there arrest thy fugitive.

One glance from thee, one piercing ray,
Would kindle darkness into day.

While life and thought and being last,
Or immortality endures.

2. Why should I make a man my trust ?
Princes must die and turn to dust ;
Vain is the help of flesh and blood ;

Their breath departs ; their pomp and pow'r,
And schemes all vanish in an hour,

Nor can they make their promise good.

Or in swift courses move
By his supreme command :
He spake the word,
And all their frame
From nothing came
To praise the Lord.
4. Let all the earth-born race,
And monsters of the deep ;
The fish that cleave the seas,
Or in their bosom sleep ;

Their maker's pow'r.

The LORD the sov'reign king ;

And make them when he please,
He speaks, and that almighty breath
Fulfil his great decrees.

6. His very word of grace is strong,
As that which built the skies ;
The voice which rolls the stars along,
Speaks all the promises.

The goodness of G O D.

1. LORD, thou art good ; all nature shows
Thee full, and free, and kind ;
Thy bounty thro' creation flows,
Nor can it be confin'd.

2. The whole and ev'ry part proclaims
Thine infinite good-will ;
It shines in stars, and flows in streams,
And bursts from ev'ry hill.

3. It spreads thro' all the spreading main,
And thro' the heav'ns more wide ;
It drops in gentle show'rs of rain,
And rolls in ev'ry tide.

4. Long has it been diffus'd abroad,
Thro' years and ages past ;
And its rich stores, all-bounteous God,
For ever still shall last.

5. Thro' the vast whole it pours supplies,
Spreads Joy thro' ev'ry part :

LORD,

LORD, let such love attract mine eyes,
And captivate my heart.

6. High admiration let it raise,
And kind affections move;
Employ my tongue in songs of praise,
And fill my heart with love.

P S A L M X. As the 50th Psalm.

The never-ceasing goodness of G O D.

1. House of our GOD, with chearful anthems ring,
While all our lips and hearts his goodness sing;
With sacred joy his wond'rous deeds proclaim;
Let ev'ry tongue be vocal with his name.
The LORD is good, his mercy never-ending,
His blessings in perpetual shew'rs descending.
2. The heav'n of heav'ns he with his bounty fills;
Ye seraphs bright, on ever-blooming hills,
His honours sound; you to whom good alone,
Unmingled, ever-growing, has been known;
Thro' your immortal life with love encreasing,
Proclaim your Maker's goodness never ceasing.
3. Thou earth, enlightned by his rays divine,
Pregnant with grass, and corn, and oil, and wine, [meet,
Crown'd with his goodness, let thy nations
And lay their crowns at his paternal feet;
With grateful love that lib'ral hand confessing,
Which thro' each heart diffuseth ev'ry blessing.
4. His goodness never ends; the dawn, the shade,
Still see new bounties thro' new scenes display'd;

Succeeding ages bless this sure abode,
 And children lean upon their father's GOD.
 The deathless soul, thro' its immense duration,
 Drinks from this source immortal consolation.

5. Burst into praise, my soul; all nature join;
 Angels and men in harmony combine;
 While human years are measur'd by the sun,
 And while eternity its course shall run,
 His goodness, in perpetual show'rs descending,
 Exalt in songs, and raptures never ending.

P S A L M XI. Long Metre.

The mercy of GOD.

1. THE LORD, how wond'rous are his ways!
 How firm his truth! how large his grace!
 He takes his mercy from his throne,
 And thence he makes his glories known.
2. Not half so high his pow'r hath spread
 The starry heav'ns above our head,
 As his rich love exceeds our praise,
 Exceeds the highest hopes we raise.
3. Not half so far hath nature plac'd
 The rising morning from the west,
 As his forgiving grace removes
 The guilt of those his heart approves.
4. The mighty GOD, the wise and just,
 Knows that our frame is feeble dust,
 And will no heavy loads impose,
 Beyond the strength which he bestows.
5. He knows how soon our nature dies,
 Blasted by ev'ry wind that flies;

Like

Like grafs we ſpring, and die as ſoon,
Or morning flow'rs that fade at noon.

6. But his eternal love is ſure
To all the faints, and ſhall endure ;
From age to age his truth ſhall reign,
Nor children's children hope in vain.

The compaſſion of G O D.

1. O Thou, the wretched's ſure retreat,
Who doſt our cares controul,
And with the chearful ſmile of peace
Revive the fainting ſoul !
2. Did ever thy relenting ear
The humble plea diſdain ;
Or when did plaintive miſ'ry ſigh,
Or ſupplicate, in vain ?
3. Oppreſs'd with grief and ſhame, diſſolv'd
In penitential tears,
Thy goodneſs calms our reſtleſs doubts,
And diſſipates our fears.
4. New life from thy refreshing grace
Our ſinking hearts receive ;
Thy gentleſt beſt lov'd attribute,
To pity and forgive.
5. From that bleſt ſource propitious hope
Appears ſerenely bright,
And ſheds her ſoft diffuſive beam
O'er ſorrow's diſmal night.
6. Our griefs confeſs her vital pow'r,
And bleſs the friendly ray,

Which ushers in the smiling morn
Of everlasting day.

PSALM XIII. Long Metre.

G O D incomprehensible.

1. LORD, we are blind, we mortals blind ;
We can't behold thy bright abode :
O, 'tis beyond a creature-mind,
To glance a thought half-way to God.
2. Infinite leagues beyond the sky,
The great eternal reigns alone :
Where neither wings nor souls can fly,
Nor angels climb the toplest throne.
3. The Lord of glory builds his seat
Of gems insufferably bright,
And lays beneath his sacred feet,
Substantial beams of gloomy night.
4. Yet, glorious LORD, thy gracious eyes
Look through, and cheer us from above ;
Beyond our praise thy grandeur flies,
Yet we adore, and yet we love.

PSALM XIV. Long Metre.

G O D exalted above men.

1. SHALL the low race of flesh and blood
Contend with their Creator God ?—
Behold he puts his trust in none
Of all the spirits round his throne :
2. But how much meaner things are they,
Who spring from dust and dwell in clay !
Touch'd by the finger of his wrath,
We faint and vanish like the moth.

3. From night to day, from day to night,
We die by thousands in his fight;
Bury'd in dust whole nations lie,
Like a forgotten vanity.
4. Almighty pow'r, to thee we bow:
How frail are we! how glorious thou!
No more the sons of earth shall dare
With an eternal God compare.

P S A L M XV. Long Metre.

The divine perfections celebrated.

1. MY God, my king, thy various praise
Shall fill the remnant of my days;
Thy grace employ my humble tongue,
Till death and glory raise the song.
2. The wings of ev'ry hour shall bear
Some thankful tribute to thine ear;
And ev'ry setting sun shall see
New works of duty done for thee.
3. Thy truth and justice I'll proclaim;
Thy bounty flows an endless stream;
Thy mercy swift; thine anger flow,
But dreadful to the stubborn foe.
4. Thy works with sov'reign glory shine,
And speak thy majesty divine;
Let Britain round her shores proclaim
The honours of thy glorious name.
5. Let distant times and nations raise
The long succession of thy praise;
And unborn ages make my song
The joy and labour of their tongue.

6. But

6. But who can speak thy wond'rous deeds?
 Thy greatness all our thoughts exceeds:
 Vast and unsearchable thy ways;
 Vast and immortal be thy praise.

G O D the Creator.

1. O LORD, how excellent thy name!
 How glorious to behold,
 Engraven fair on all thy works,
 In characters of gold!
2. On heav'ns unmeasurable face,
 In lines immensely great;
 In small, on ev'ry leaf and flow'r,
Creator G O D is writ.
3. Tho' reason be not giv'n to all
 Nor voice to thee, O sun!
 Their Maker all proclaim, and here
 Their language is but one.
4. From land to land, from world to world,
 Thy fame is echo'd round;
 And ages, as they pass, transmit
 The never-dying sound.
5. Angels, the eldest sons of light,
 Began the lofty song:
 They saw the heav'ns expand abroad,
 And earth on nothing hung.
6. Then man, the last and noblest work
 Of all this nether frame,
 With the first vital breath he drew,
 Confess'd from whence he came.

 To praise his glorious name unite;
 Heav'n, earth, and sea confess his hand,
 And wait obedient his command.
2. His hand unseen sustains the poles
 On which the vast creation rolls;
 The starry skies proclaim his pow'r,
 His pencil glows in ev'ry flow'r.
3. In various shapes and colours, rise
 Ten thousand wonders to our eyes;
 And beasts and birds, with lab'ring throat,
 Teach us a God in ev'ry note.
4. Across the waves, around the sky,
 There's not a place, or deep or high,
 Where the creator has not trod,
 And left the footsteps of a God.

P S A L M XVIII. Proper Tune.

All creatures called upon to praise G O D.

1. BEGIN, my soul, th' exalted lay,
 Let each enraptur'd thought obey,
 And praise th' Almighty's name;
 Lo! heav'n, and earth, and seas, and skies,
 In one melodious concert rise,
 To swell th' inspiring theme.

2. Ye angels, catch the joyful sound,
While all th' adoring throngs around
His wond'rous mercy sing;
Let ev'ry list'ning faint above
Wake all the tuneful soul of love,
And touch the sweetest string.
3. Thou heav'n of heav'ns, his vast abode,
Ye clouds, proclaim your forming God;
Ye thunders, speak his pow'r:
Lo! on the lightning's gleamy wing,
In triumph walks th' eternal King;
Th' astonish'd worlds adore.
4. Ye deeps, with roaring billows rise,
To join the thunders of the skies;
Praise him who bid you roll;
His praise in softer notes declare,
Each whisp'ring breeze of yielding air,
And breathe it to the soul.
5. Wake, all ye soaring throngs, and sing;
Ye chearful warblers of the spring,
Harmonious anthems raise,
To him who shap'd your finer mould,
Who tip'd your glitt'ring wings with gold,
And tun'd your voice to praise.
6. Let man, by nobler passions sway'd,
The feeling heart, the judging head,
In heav'nly praise employ;
Spread the creator's name around,
Till heav'ns broad arch ring back the sound,
The gen'ral burst of joy.

PSALM XIX. Common Metre.

Praise to GOD from all creatures.

1. THE glories of our maker GOD
Our joyful tongues shall sing;
And call the nations to adore
Their former and their king.
2. 'Twas his right-hand that shap'd our clay,
And wrought this wond'rous frame;
But from his own celestial breath,
Our nobler spirits came.
3. We bring our mortal pow'rs to GOD,
And worship with our tongues:
We claim some kindred with the skies,
And join the heav'nly songs.
4. Let beasts, which in the pastures feed,
Or in the desarts lie,
Fishes that move within the seas,
And fowls beneath the sky;
5. Let rocks, and woods, and fires, and seas,
Their various tribute bring;
And one united anthem raise
To GOD, all nature's king.
6. Ye planets, to his honour shine,
As thro' your orbs you run;
Praise him in your eternal course
Around the steady sun.
7. The glory of our Maker's name
The wide creation fills,
And his unbounded grandeur flies
Beyond the heav'nly hills.

P S A L M XX. As the 113th Psalm.

Praise to G O D from the material creation.

1. G R E A T G O D, the heav'ns well order'd frame

Declares the glories of thy name ;

There thy rich works of wonder shine ;

A thousand starry beauties there,

A thousand radiant marks appear

Of boundless pow'r and skill divine.

2. From night to day, from day to night,

The dawning and the dying light

Lectures of heav'nly wisdom read ;

With silent eloquence they raise

Our thoughts to our creator's praise,

And neither sound nor language need.

3. Yet their divine instructions run

Far as the journey of the sun,

And ev'ry nation knows their voice :

The sun, like a young bridegroom drest,

Breaks from the chambers of the east,

Rolls round, and makes the earth rejoice.

4. Where-e'er he spreads his beams abroad,

He smiles and speaks his maker G O D :

All nature joins to shew thy praise ;

Thy glories thro' creation shine,

Our souls confess the pow'r divine,

And songs of chearful homage raise.

Which gilds the gloom of night ;

With rays of chearing light.
4. The sunny hill, the dewy lawn,
With thousand beauties shine ;
The silent grove, and awful shade
Proclaim thy pow'r divine.
5. From tree to tree a constant hymn
Employs the feather'd throng ;
To thee their chearful notes they swell,
And chaunt their grateful song.

Our serious hours engage ;
Still may our grateful hearts consult

Praise to GOD from the heavenly bodies.

1. THE spacious firmament on high,
With all the blue ethereal sky,

2. Th' unweary sun, from day to day,
Doth his creator's pow'r display ;

The work of one almighty hand.
3. Soon as the ev'ning shades prevail,
The moon takes up the wond'rous tale;
And nightly to the list'ning earth
Repeats the story of her birth.
4. Whilst all the stars which round her burn,
And all the planets in their turn,
Confirm the tidings as they roll,
And spread the truth from pole to pole.
5. What tho' in solemn silence all
Move round the dark terrestrial ball;
What tho' no real voice nor sound
Amidst their radiant orbs be found;

And utter forth a glorious voice;
For ever singing, as they shine,
"The hand that made us is divine."

PSALM XXIII. As the 113th Psalm.

GOD the creator and governor of the world.

1. YE holy souls, in God rejoice;
Your Maker's praise becomes your voice;
Great is your theme, your songs be new:
Sing of his name, his word, his ways,
His works of nature and of grace,
How wise and holy, just and true!
2. Justice and truth he ever loves,
And the whole earth his goodness proves;
His word the heav'nly arches spread:

How

How wide they shine from north to south !
 And by the spirit of his mouth
 Were all the starry armies made.

3. He gathers the wide flowing seas ;
 Those wat'ry treasures know their place
 In the vast store-house of the deep :
 He spake and gave all nature birth ;
 And fires, and seas, and heav'n, and earth,
 His everlasting orders keep.

4. Let mortals tremble, and adore
 A God of such resistless pow'r ;
 Nor dare indulge their feeble rage :
 Vain are your thoughts, and weak your hands ;
 But his eternal counsel stands,
 And rules the world from age to age.

PSALM XXIV. As the 50th Psalm.

The eternal and sovereign G O D.

1. THE LORD of glory reigns, he reigns on high ;
 His robes of state are strength and majesty :
 This wide creation rose at his command,
 Built by his word, and 'stablish'd by his hand :
 Long stood his throne ere he began creation,
 And his own godhead is the firm foundation.
2. GOD is th' eternal King : his foes in vain
 Raise their rebellions to confound his reign ;
 In vain the storms ; in vain the floods arise,
 And roar, and toss their waves against the skies ;
 Foaming at heav'n they rage with wild com-

G O D the sovereign King.

1. T H E LORD of glory reigns supremely great,
And o'er heav'ns arches builds his royal seat;
Thro' worlds unknown his sov'reign sway extends,
Nor space, nor time his boundless empire ends;
His eye beholds th' affairs of ev'ry nation,
And reads each thought through his immense creation.
2. Light'nings and storms his mighty word obey,
And planets roll, where he has mark'd their way :
Unnumber'd angels veil'd before him stand,
And at his signal all their wings expand :
His praise gives harmony to all their voices,
And ev'ry heart thro' the full choir rejoices.
3. Rebellious mortals, cease your tumults vain,
Nor longer such unequal war maintain :
Let clay with fellow clay in combat strive,
But dread to brave the pow'r by which you live:
With contrite hearts fall prostrate and adore
him,
For, if he frown, ye perish all before him.

PSALM XXVII. Common Metre.

1. I SING th' almighty pow'r of GOD;
That made the mountains rise;
That spread the flowing seas abroad,
And built the lofty skies.
2. I sing the wisdom that ordain'd
The sun to rule the day;
The moon shines full at his command,
And all the stars obey.
3. I sing the goodness of the LORD,
That fill'd the earth with food;
He form'd the creatures with his word,
And then pronounc'd them good.
4. LORD, how thy wonders are display'd,
Where'er I turn mine eye;
If I survey the ground I tread,
Or gaze upon the sky!
5. There's not a plant or flow'r below,
But makes thy glories known;
And clouds arise, and tempests blow,
By order from thy throne.
6. Creatures (as num'rous as they be)
Are subject to thy care:
There's not a place where we can flee,
But GOD is present there.
7. His hand is my perpetual guard;
He keeps me with his eye;
Why should I then forget the LORD,
Who is for ever nigh?

2. The ground with plenty blooms again,
 And yields her various fruits to men ;
 To men, who from thy bounteous hand,
 Receive the gifts of ev'ry land.
3. Nor to the human race alone,
 Is his paternal goodness shown ;
 The tribes of earth, and sea, and air,
 Enjoy his universal care.
4. Not ev'n a sparrow yields his breath,
 Till God permit the stroke of death :
 He hears the ravens when they call,
 The father and the friend of all.

1. ETERNAL source of ev'ry joy !
 Well may thy praise our lips employ,
 While in thy temple we appear ;
 Thy goodness crowns the circling year.
2. Wide as the earth and planets roll,
 Thy hand supports and cheers the whole :
 By thee the sun is taught to rise,
 And darkness when to veil the skies.
3. The flow'ry spring, at thy command,
 Embalms the air and paints the land ;

The summer-rays with vigour shine,
To raise the corn, and chear the vine.

4. Seasons, and months, and weeks, and days,
Demand successive hymns of praise :
Still be the chearful homage paid,
With morning light and ev'ning shade.
5. O may our more harmonious tongues,
In worlds unknown pursue the songs ;
And in those brighter courts adore,
Where days and years revolve no more.

Thy plenteous fruits make harvest glad,
Thy flow'rs adorn the spring.
3. Seasons, and times, and months, and hours,
Heav'n, earth, and air are thine :
When clouds distil in fruitful show'rs,
The author is divine.
4. Those wand'ring cisterns in the sky,
Borne by the winds around,
With wat'ry treasures well supply
The furrows of the ground.

2. Sing to the LORD, the just, the good ;
He fills our hearts with joy and food ;
He pours his blessings from the skies,
And loads our days with rich supplies.
3. He sends the sun his circuit round,
To cheer the fruits, to warm the ground ;
He bids the clouds with plenteous rain
Refresh the thirsty earth again.
4. He makes the grass the hills adorn,
And cloaths the smiling fields with corn ;
The beasts with food his hands supply,
And the young ravens when they cry.
5. 'Tis to his care we owe our breath,
And all our near escapes from death :
Safety and health to God belong ;
He heals the weak and guards the strong.
6. The wonders which his love hath wrought,
Exceed our praise, surmount our thought ;
Should we attempt the long detail,
Our speech would faint, our numbers fail.
7. Praise ye the LORD : my heart shall join,
In work so pleasant, so divine,

Now while this earth is mine abode,
And when my soul ascends to God.

PSALM XXXII. Long Metre.

Divine condescension to human affairs.

1. UP to the LORD, who reigns on high,
And views the nations from afar,
Let everlasting praises fly,
And tell how large his bounties are.
2. He who can shake the worlds he made,
Or by his word, or by his rod,
His goodness how amazing great!
And what a condescending God!
3. GOD, who must stoop to view the skies,
And bow to see what angels do,
Down to our earth directs his eyes,
And bends his footsteps downward too.
4. He over-rules all mortal things,
And manages our mean affairs;
On humble souls the king of kings
Bestows his counsels and his cares.
5. O could our thankful hearts devise
A tribute equal to his grace,
To the third heav'n our songs should rise,
And teach angelic minds his praise.

And flourish bright and gay ;
A blafting wind fweeps o'er the land,
And fades the grafs away.
3. Our life contains a thoufand fprings,
And dies if one be gone ;
Strange ! that a harp of thoufand ftrings,
Should keep in tune fo long.
4. But 'tis our GOD fupports our frame,
The GOD who form'd us firft ;
Salvation to th' Almighty name
That rear'd us from the duft.
5. While we have breath, or ufe our tongues,

Which rais'd us with a word ;
And ev'ry day and ev'ry hour
We lean upon the LORD.
3. The ev'ning refts our weary head,
And angels guard the room ;
We wake, and we admire the bed
Which was not made our tomb.

Shall find a most secure abode ;
Shall walk all day beneath his shade,
And safe at night shall rest his head.
2. He guides our feet, he guards our way,
His morning smiles bless all the day ;
He spreads the ev'ning vail, and keeps
The silent hours while nature sleeps.
3. Then will I say, " My GOD, thy pow'r
" Shall be my fortress and my tow'r ;
" I, who am form'd of feeble dust,
" Make thine almighty arm my trust."
4. Up to the hills I lift mine eyes,
Th' eternal hills beyond the skies ;
Thence all her help my soul derives,
There my almighty refuge lives.

Who built the world and spread the flood ;
He lives, and by his heav'nly care,
Preserves my life from ev'ry snare.

The daily goodness of G O D.

Thy gifts are ev'ry ev'ning new;
And morning mercies from above

Great guardian of our sleeping hours;
Thy sov'reign word restores the light,
And quickens all our drowsy pow'rs.

To thee we consecrate our days:
Perpetual blessings from thine hand
Demand perpetual songs of praise.

P S A L M XXXVII. Common Metre.

Our short lives crowned with the divine goodness.

1. OUR time is ever on the wing,
And death is ever nigh;
The moment when our lives begin,
We all begin to die.
2. Yet, mighty GOD, our fleeting days
Thy constant favours share;
Yet with the bounties of thy grace
Thou crown'st the rolling year.
3. The hand of mercy finds us food,
And we are cloath'd with love,
While grace stands pointing out the road,
Which leads our souls above.
4. Thy goodness runs an endless round;
All glory to the LORD!

Thy

Thy mercy never knows a bound ;
 Be thy great name ador'd !

5. Thus we begin the lasting song ;
 And when we close our eyes,
 Let the next age thy praise prolong,
 'Till time and nature dies.

 We drew our vital pow'rs ;
 Our time revolves at thy command,
 In all its circling hours.
3. Thy pow'r, our ever present guard,
 From ev'ry ill defends ;
 While num'rous dangers hover round,
 Our help from thee descends.
4. Beneath the shadow of thy wings,
 How sweet is our repose !
 The morning-light renews the springs
 From whence our comfort flows.
5. In celebration of thy praise
 We will employ our breath ;
 And, walking steadfast in thy ways,
 Will triumph over death.

P S A L M XXXIX. Long Metre.

G O D acknowledged in our enjoyments.

1. FATHER of light, we sing thy name,
Who kindlest up the lamp of day;

His beams thy pow'r and love display.
2. Fountain of good, from thee proceeds,
In plenteous drops the genial rain,
Which thro' the hills, and thro' the meads,
Revives the grafs, and swells the grain.
3. Thro' the wide world thy bounties spread;
Yet numbers of our guilty race,
Tho' by thy daily bounty fed,
Affront thy law, and slight thy grace.
4. Not so may our forgetful hearts
O'erlook the tokens of thy care;
But what thy lib'ral hand imparts,
Still own in praise, still ask in pray'r.
5. So shall our suns more grateful shine,
And show'rs in richer drops shall fall,
When all our hearts and lives are thine,
And thou our God ador'd in all.

The hope of a resurrection.

1. THINK, mighty GOD, on feeble man;
How few his hours! how short his span!
Short from the cradle to the grave:

Who

Who can secure his vital breath
Against the bold demands of death,
With skill to fly, or pow'r to save?

2. LORD, shall it be for ever said,
“ The race of man was only made
“ For sickness, sorrow, and the dust?
“ Are not thy servants, day by day,
“ Sent to their graves and turn'd to clay?
“ LORD, where's thy kindness to the just?”

3. But thou has promis'd to thy Son,
And all his seed, a heav'nly crown:
Why do we then indulge despair?
For ever blessed be the LORD,
That we can read his holy word,
And find a resurrection there.

4. For ever blessed be the LORD,
Who gives his saints a long reward,
For all their toil, reproach and pain:
Let all below, and all above,
Join to proclaim thy wond'rous love,
And each repeat the loud Amen.

Each moment brings it near ;

Nor many mornings rise ;
Ere all its glories stand reveal'd

Ye mortal pow'rs decay ;

Fast

Fast as ye bring the night of death,
Ye bring eternal day.

Personal mercies thankfully acknowledged.

1. WHEN all thy mercies, O my God,
My rising soul surveys;
Transported with the view, I'm lost
In wonder, love, and praise.
2. O how shall words with equal warmth
The gratitude declare,
Which glows within my ravish'd heart?—
But thou canst read it there.
3. Thy providence my life sustain'd,
And all my wants redress'd,
When in the silent womb I lay,
And hung upon the breast.
4. To all my weak complaints and cries
Thy mercy lent an ear,
Before my feeble thoughts had learn'd
To form themselves in pray'r.
5. Unnumber'd comforts on my soul
Thy tender care bestow'd,
Before my infant heart conceiv'd
From whence those comforts flow'd.
6. When in the slipp'ry paths of youth
With heedless step I ran,
Thine arm unseen convey'd me safe,
And led me up to man.
7. Thro' hidden dangers, toils and deaths,
It gently clear'd my way;

And thro' the pleasing snares of vice,
More to be fear'd than they.

8. When worn with sickness, oft has thou
With health renew'd my face;
And, when in sins and sorrows sunk,
Reviv'd my soul with grace.

9. Thy bounteous hand with worldly bliss
Has made my cup run o'er;
And, in a kind and faithful friend,
Has doubled all my store.

My daily thanks employ;
Nor is the least a chearful heart,
That tastes those gifts with joy.

Thy goodness I'll pursue;
And, after death in distant worlds,
The glorious theme renew.

12. When nature fails, and day and night
Divide thy works no more,
My ever grateful heart, O LORD,
Thy mercy shall adore.

13. Thro' all eternity to thee
A joyful song I'll raise;
For oh! eternity's too short
To utter all thy praise.

Preservation by sea.

1. HOW are thy servants blest, O LORD!
How sure is their defence!

Eternal

- Eternal wisdom is their guide,
Their help omnipotence.
2. In foreign realms, and lands remote,
Supported by thy care,
Thro' burning climes I pass'd unhurt,
And breath'd in tainted air.
3. Thy mercy sweeten'd ev'ry soil,
Made ev'ry region please ;
The hoary frozen hills it warm'd,
And smooth'd the boisterous seas.
4. Think, O my soul, devoutly think,
How with affrighted eyes,
Thou saw'st the wide extended deep
In all its horrors rise.
5. Confusion dwelt in ev'ry face,
And fear in ev'ry heart ;
When waves on waves, and gulphs on gulphs,
O'ercame the pilot's art.
6. Yet then, from all my griefs, O LORD,
Thy mercy set me free ;
While in the confidence of pray'r
My soul took hold on thee.
7. For tho' in dreadful whirls we hung
High on the broken wave ;
I knew thou wer't not slow to hear,
Nor impotent to save.
8. The storm was laid, the winds retir'd,
Obedient to thy will ;
The sea, that roar'd at thy command,
At thy command was still.

9. In midst of dangers, fears, and deaths,
 Thy goodness I'll adore ;
 I'll praise thee for thy mercies past,
 And humbly hope for more.

10. My life, whilst thou preserv'st my life,
 Thy sacrifice shall be ;
 And death, when death shall be my doom,
 Shall join my soul to thee.

PSALM LIV. Long Metre.

New Year's-day.

1. Great God, we sing that mighty hand,
 By which supported still we stand ;
 The op'ning year thy mercy shows ;
 Thy mercy crowns it till it close.
2. By day, by night, at home, abroad,
 Still are we guarded by our God ;
 By his incessant bounty fed,
 By his unerring counsel led.
3. With grateful hearts the past we own ;
 The future all to us unknown,
 We to thy guardian care commit,
 And peaceful leave before thy feet.
4. In scenes exalted or depress'd,
 Thou art our joy, and thou our rest ;
 Thy goodness all our hopes shall raise,
 Ador'd thro' all our changing days.
5. When death shall interrupt these songs,
 And seal in silence mortal tongues,
 Our helper, God, in whom we trust,
 In better worlds our souls shall boast.

PSALM LV. Common Metre.

For the morning.

1. STILL do the wheels of time revolve,
And bear this life along!
With thanks I end the fleeting days,
And hail them with a song.
2. LORD, what is man when lost in sleep?
Sense and reflection dies :
And yet from this defenceless state
With new delight I rise.
3. —But not defenceless, O my soul!
Observe that guardian hand,
Which plac'd those watchful angels there,
There set the heav'nly band.
4. And does the king of glory wake
To guard my sleeping head?
And shining Seraphs pitch their tent
So near a mortal's bed?
5. Great God of hosts, accept the song;
I own the wond'rous grace :
O may the guardian of my nights
Delight to bless my days.
6. 'Tis theirs alone such bliss to know,
Who do their father's will ;
Resolve, my soul, and sin subdu'd,
Defy each mortal ill.
7. This day shall ev'ry hour correct
The follies of the past ;
And such shall all its actions be,
As would adorn the last.

PSALM LVI. Common Metre.

For the evening.

1. STAY, stay, my lab'ring pow'rs, awake,
     To praise a while your God ;
 The God who rules the lightsome day,
     And spreads these shades abroad.
2. The hand which fills my daily cup,
     And gives me daily bread,
 Preserves my ev'ning comforts too,
     And makes my nightly bed.
3. Past, O my soul, for ever past
     Is an important day ;
 Its sorrows and its joys are gone,
     The serious and the gay.
4. And life itself, that chequer'd scene,
     Dies with the morning flow'r ;
 Each scheme dissolv'd, and ev'ry thought
     Shall perish in an hour.
5. This night perhaps the hand of death
     May snatch my soul away ;
 And send it to the shades of woe,
     Or to eternal day.
6. My soul, or meditate the dread,
     Or oh ! indulge the joy ;
 And let the praise of love divine
     The sweetest thoughts employ.
7. 'Tis this which cheers my midnight hours,
     And dissipates the gloom ;
 Adds a fresh lustre to the light,
     And glory to the tomb.

8. Thus,

8. Thus, while I feel my heav'n-born soul
 To its own mansions soar,
 Fearless, I give mine eyes to sleep,
 Tho' I should wake no more.

 Propitious to our humble pray'r;
 And, tho' deliv'rance long delay,
 Answers in his well-chosen day.
3. O may thy grace our land engage,
 Rescu'd from fierce tyrannic rage,
 The tribute of its praise to bring
 To thee our saviour and our king.
4. Our temples, guarded from the flame,
 Shall echo thy triumphant name;
 And ev'ry peaceful private home
 To thee a temple shall become.

 "The LORD maintains his throne;"
 Each British heart shall own its king,

2. At his command tyrannic pride
 From its high seat is hurl'd;

On awful clouds, behold him ride,
And thunder thro' the world.

3. He reigns upon th' eternal hills,
Distributes mortal crowns ;
Empires are fix'd beneath his smiles,
And totter at his frowns.

4. Navies, that rule the ocean wide,
Are vanquish'd by his breath ;
And legions, arm'd with pow'r and pride,
Descend to wat'ry death.

5. Let tyrants make no more pretence
T' inflave our happy land ;
JEHOVAH's name is our defence,
Our buckler is his hand.

6. Long may the king, our sov'reign, live
To rule us by his word ;
And all the honours he can give
Be offer'd to the LORD.

1. SHOUT to the LORD, and let our joys
Thro' the whole nation run ;
Ye British skies resound the noise
Beyond the rising sun.

2. Thee, mighty GOD, our souls admire,
Thee our glad voices sing ;
And join with the celestial choir
To praise th' eternal king.

3. Thy pow'r the whole creation rules,
And, from the starry skies,

Looks down and scorns the weak designs,
Thine envious foes devise.

4. Thy hand defies their feeble rage,
And, at thine awful frown,
Their deep-laid plots are render'd vain
Their Babel is o'erthrown.

5. Their secret fires in caverns lay;
Our land the sacrifice;
But gloomy caverns strove in vain
To 'scape all-searching eyes.

6. Their dark designs were all reveal'd;
Their treasons all betray'd;
Praise to the LORD, who broke the snare
Their cruel hands had laid.

PSALM LX. Common Metre.

The blessings of civil government.

1. ETERNAL sov'reign of the sky,
And LORD of all below,
We mortals to thy majesty
Our first obedience owe.

2. Our souls adore thy throne supreme,
And bless thy providence,
For magistrates of meaner name,
Our glory and defence.

3. Kingdoms on firm foundations stand,
While virtue finds reward,
And sinners perish from the land,
By justice and the sword.

4. Where laws and liberties combine,
To make a people blest,

There crowns with brightest lustre shine,
And kings are honour'd best.

5. Let Cæsar's due be ever paid
To Cæsar and his throne ;
But Consciences and souls were made
To be the LORD's alone.

PSALM LXI. As the 113th Psalm.

A general national thanksgiving.

1. SAY, should we search the globe around,
Where can such happiness be found,
As dwells in Britain's favour'd isle?

Here plenty reigns ; here freedom sheds
Her choicest blessings on our heads,
And bids our bleakest mountains smile.

2. Here commerce spreads the wealthy store,
Which comes from ev'ry foreign shore ;
Science and art their charms display ;
Religion teaches us to raise
Our voices in our Maker's praise,
As truth and conscience point the way.

3. These are thy gifts, almighty king !
From thee our matchless blessings spring ;
Th' extended trade, the fruitful skies,
The raptures liberty bestows,
Th' eternal joys the gospel shows.
All from thy boundless goodness rise.

4. With grateful hearts, with chearful tongues.
To GOD we raise united songs ;
His pow'r and mercy we proclaim ;

Britons, thro' ev'ry age, shall own,
 JEHOVAH here hath fix'd his throne,
 And triumph in his mighty name.

5. Long as the moon her course shall run,
 Or man behold the circling sun,

O still may God in Britain reign;
 Still crown her counsels with success,
 With peace and joy her borders bless,
 And all her sacred rights maintain.

PSALM LXII. Common Metre.

1. GREAT is the LORD; his works of might
 Demand our noblest songs;
 Let his assembled saints unite
 Their harmony of tongues.
2. Great is the mercy of the LORD;
 He gives his children food;
 And, ever mindful of his word,
 He makes his promise good.
3. His Son the great Redeemer, came
 To seal his cov'nant sure;
 Holy and rev'rend is his name,
 His ways are just and pure.
4. Then let our inward joys arise,
 And burst into a song;
 Let the blest theme, which fills the skies,
 Employ each human tongue.

P S A L M LXIII. Short Metre.

Praise to GOD from angels.

1. THE LORD, the sov'reign King,
Hath fix'd his throne on high ;
O'er all the heav'nly world he rules,
And all beneath the sky.
2. Ye angels, great in might,
And swift to do his will ;
Bless ye the LORD, whose voice ye hear,
Whose pleasure ye fulfil,
3. Let the bright hosts who wait
The orders of their King,
And guard his servants when they pray,
Join in the praise they sing.
4. While all his wond'rous works,
Thro' his vast kingdom, shew
Their Maker's glory ; thou, my soul,
Shalt sing his praises too.

P S A L M LXIV. Long Metre.

Praise to GOD on the LORD's day.

1. SWEET is the work, my God, my King,
To praise thy name, give thanks, and sing ;
To shew thy love by morning light,
And talk of all thy truth at night.
2. Sweet is the day of sacred rest ;
No mortal cares shall seize my breast ;
My noblest pow'rs shall join to raise
A tribute of exalted praise.
3. My heart shall triumph in the LORD,
And bless his works, and bless his word ;
His

His works of grace, how bright they shine !
How deep his counfels ! how divine !

PSALM LXV. Common Metre.

Praise to GOD in his house.

1. IN God's own house pronounce his praise,
His grace he there reveals ;
To heav'n your joy and wonder raise,
For there his glory dwells.
2. Let all your sacred passions move,
While you rehearse his deeds ;
But the great work of saving love
Your highest praise exceeds.
3. All that have motion, life and breath,
Proclaim your Maker blest ;
Yet, when my voice expires in death,
My soul shall praise him best.

PSALM LXVI. Common Metre.

Universal and sincere praise to GOD.

1. O For a shout of sacred joy
To God the sov'reign King ;
Let ev'ry land their tongues employ,
And hymns of triumph sing.
2. While angels join to sound his praise,
Let mortals learn their strains ;
Let all the earth his honours raise ;
O'er all the earth he reigns.
3. Rehearse his praise with awe profound ;
Let knowledge lead the song ;
Nor mock him with a solemn sound,
Upon a thoughtless tongue.

P S A L M LXVII. Long Metre.

Praise to GOD thro' the whole of our existence.

1. GOD of my life, thro' all its days
My grateful pow'rs shall sound thy praise;
The song shall wake with op'ning light,
And cheer the dark and silent night.
2. When anxious cares would break my rest,
And griefs would tear my throbbing breast,
Thy tuneful praises, rais'd on high,
Shall check the murmur and the sigh.
3. When death o'er nature shall prevail,
And all its pow'rs of language fail,
Joy thro' my swimming eyes shall break,
And mean the thanks I cannot speak.
4. But oh! when that last conflict's o'er,
And I am chain'd to earth no more,
With what glad accents shall I rise,
To join the music of the skies!
5. Soon shall I learn the exalted strains,
Which echo thro' the heav'nly plains;
And emulate, with joy unknown,
The nobler spirits round thy throne.
6. The cheerful tribute will I give,
Long as a deathless soul can live;
A work so sweet, a theme so high,
Demands and crowns eternity.

P S A L M LXVIII. Long Metre.

A general act of praise.

1. YE nations round the earth, rejoice
Before the Lord your sov'reign King;
Serve

- Serve him with chearful heart and voice ;
 With all your tongues his glory sing.
2. Attend before his lofty throne,
 With solemn fear, with sacred joy ;
 Know that the LORD is GOD alone,
 He can create and he destroy.
  3. His sov'reign pow'r, without our aid,
 Made us of clay, and form'd us men ;
 And, when like wand'ring sheep, we stray'd,
 He brought us to his fold again.
  4. We are his people, we his care,
 Our souls, and all our mortal frame ;
 What lasting honours shall we rear,
 Almighty Maker, to thy name ?
  5. We'll crowd thy gates with thankful songs ;
 High as the heav'ns our voices raise ;
 And earth, with her ten thousand tongues,
 Shall fill thy courts with sounding praise.
  6. Wide as the world is thy command ;
 Vast as eternity thy love ;
 Firm as a rock thy truth will stand,
 When rolling years shall cease to move.

PSALM LXIX. Long Metre.

Our praises not profitable to GOD.

1. YE weak inhabitants of clay,
 Ye short liv'd creatures of a day,
 Low in your native dust bow down,
 Before th' Eternal's awful throne.
2. With heart devout, with solemn eye,
 Behold JEHOVAH seated high ;

T

And

And search, what worthy sacrifice
Your hands can give, your thoughts devise.

3. Loud let ten thousand voices sound,
And call remotest nations round;
Asssemble, on the crowded plains,
Princes and people, kings and swains:
4. Join'd with the living, let the dead
Rising the face of earth o'erspread;
And, while his praise unites their tongues,
Let angels echo back the songs:——
5. The drop, which from the bucket falls,
The dust, which hangs upon the scales,
Is more to sky, and earth, and sea,
Than all this pomp, O GOD, to thee.

PSALM LXX. Long Metre.

GOD exalted above all praise.

1. ETernal pow'r! whose high abode
Becomes the grandeur of a GOD;
Infinite length beyond the bounds,
Where stars revolve their little rounds:
2. Earth from afar has heard thy fame;
Our tongues have learn'd to lisp thy name:
But oh! the glories of thy mind
Leave all our soaring thoughts behind.
3. GOD is in heav'n, and men below:
Short be our tunes, our words be few:
A sacred Rev'rence checks our songs,
And praise sits silent on our tongues.

The END of the SECOND PART.

2. Such was thy truth, and such thy zeal,
Such def'rence to thy Father's will,
Such love, and meekness so divine,
I would transcribe and make them mine.
3. Cold mountains and the midnight air,
Witness'd the fervour of thy pray'r;
The desert thy temptations knew,
Thy conflict and thy vict'ry too.
4. Be thou my pattern; let me bear
More of thy lovely image here;
Then God, the judge, shall own my name
Among the foll'wers of the lamb.

CHRIST's death, victory, and dominion.

1. I Sing my SAVIOUR's wond'rous death;
He conquer'd when he fell;
" 'Tis finish'd," said his dying breath,
And shook the gates of hell.
2. " 'Tis finish'd," our EMMANUEL cries,
" Th' important work is done:"
Hence shall his sov'reign throne arise,
His kingdom is begun.
3. His cross a sure foundation laid
For glory and renown;
When thro' the regions of the dead,
He pass'd to reach the crown.
4. Exalted at his Father's side
Sits our victorious Lord;
To heav'n and hell his hands divide
The vengeance or reward.

5. The saints, from his propitious eye,
 Await their sev'ral crowns ;
 And all the sons of darkness fly
 The terror of his frowns.

PSALM VII. Common Metre.

Praise to CHRIST the Lamb of GOD.

1. COME, let us join our chearful songs
 With angels round the throne ;
 Ten thousand thousand are their tongues,
 But all their joys are one.
2. “ Worthy the Lamb that dy'd,” they cry,
 “ To be exalted thus :” ———
 “ Worthy the Lamb,” our lips reply,
 For he was slain for us.
3. JESUS is worthy to receive
 Honour and pow'r divine ;
 And blessings more than we can give
 Be, LORD, for ever thine.
4. Let all that dwell above the sky,
 And air, and earth, and seas,
 Conspire to raise thy glories high,
 And speak thy endless praise :
5. The whole creation join in one,
 To bless the sacred name
 Of him that sits upon the throne,
 And to adore the Lamb.

PSALM VIII. Common Metre.

The resurrection of CHRIST.

1. “ I SET the LORD before my face,
 “ He bears my courage up ;

“ My

- “ My heart and tongue their joys exprefs ;”
 My flesh ſhall reſt in hope.
2. “ My ſpirit, LORD, thou wilt not leave
 “ Where ſouls departed are ;
 “ Nor give my body to the grave
 “ To ſee corruption there.”
3. “ Thou wilt reveal the path of life,
 “ And raiſe me to thy throne ;
 “ Thy courts immortal pleaſures give,
 “ Thy preſence joys unknown.”——
4. Thus, in the name of CHRIST the Lord,
 The holy David ſung ;
 And providence fulfill’d the word
 Of his prophetic tongue.
5. In the cold priſon of the grave,
 Our great Redeemer lay,
 ’Till the revolving ſkies had brought
 The third, th’ appointed day.
6. Then he deſtroy’d the pow’rs of death,
 And vanquiſh’d all his foes ;
 Ye ſaints, remember and rejoice,
 For then the SAVIOUR roſe.

P S A L M IX. As the 148th Pfalm.

CHRIST ſeen of angels.

1. O Ye immortal throng
 Of angels round the throne,
 Join with our feeble ſong
 To make the SAVIOUR known :
 On earth ye knew
 His wond’rous grace :
 His glorious face
 In heav’n ye view.

2. Ye saw the heav'n-born child,
In human flesh array'd,
Benevolent and mild,
While in the manger laid ;
And praise to God,
And peace on earth,
For such a birth,
Proclaim'd aloud.
3. His agonizing pains,
And bloody sweat, ye knew,
And, from your blissful plans,
With eager haste ye flew :
Ye saw his grief ;
And from above,
On wings of love,
Brought him relief.
4. Around his sacred tomb,
A willing watch ye keep ;
'Till the blest moment come,
To rouse him from his sleep :
Then roll'd the stone,
And all ador'd
Your rising Lord,
With joy unknown.
5. When all array'd in light
The shining conqu'ror rode,
Ye hail'd his rapt'rous flight
Up to the throne of God ;
And wav'd around
Your golden wings ;
And struck your strings
Of sweetest sound.

6. The joyful notes pursue,
And louder anthems raise;
While mortals sing with you
Their own Redeemer's praise:
And thou, my heart,
With equal flame,
And joy the same,
Perform thy part.

PSALM X. Long Metre.

The mission of the HOLY SPIRIT.

1. GREAT was the day, the joy was great,
When CHRIST's belov'd disciples met;
Whilst on their heads the SPIRIT came,
And sat like tongues of cloven flame.
2. What gifts, what miracles he gave!
And pow'r to kill, and pow'r to save!
Furnish'd their tongues with wond'rous words,
Instead of shields, and spears, and swords.
3. Thus arm'd he sent the champions forth,
From east to west, from south to north:
"Go and assert your SAVIOUR's cause;
"Go spread the mystery of the cross."
4. Nations, the learned and the rude,
Are by these heav'nly arms subdu'd;
While Satan rages at his loss,
And hates the doctrine of the cross.
5. Great King of grace! my heart subdue;
I would be led in triumph too,
A willing captive to my Lord,
And sing the vict'ries of his word.

P S A L M XI. Common Metre.

The intercession and compassion of CHRIST.

1. WITH Joy we meditate the grace
Of our high priest above;
His heart is made of tenderness,
His breast o'erflows with love.
2. Touch'd with a sympathy within,
He knows our feeble frame;
He knows what strong temptations mean,
For he has felt the same.
3. But spotless, innocent, and pure,
The great Redeemer stood,
While Satan's fiery darts he bore,
And did resist to blood.
4. He, in the days of feeble flesh,
Pour'd out his cries and tears;
And, in his measure, feels afresh
What ev'ry member bears.
5. Then let our humble faith address
His mercy and his pow'r;
We shall obtain deliv'ring grace,
In the distressful hour.

3. We honour our exalted King ;
How wise are his commands !

He guards our souls from hell and sin,

His mercies lay a sov'reign claim
To our immortal praise.

And writ the blessings in thy word.

2. How well thy blessed truths agree !
How wise and holy thy commands !
Thy promises, how firm they be !
How firm our hope and comfort stands !

3. What if we trace the globe around,
And search from Britain to Japan ;
There shall be no religion found,
So just to God, so safe for man.

4. Not the feign'd fields of heath'nish bliss
Could raise such pleasures in the mind ;
Nor does the Turkish paradise
Pretend to joys so well refin'd.

5. Should all the forms, which men devise,
Assault my faith with treach'rous art,

I'd call them vanity and lies,
And bind the gospel to my heart.

The excellence and success of the gospel.

In ev'ry star thy wisdom shines;
But when our eyes behold thy word,
We read thy name in fairer lines.
2. The rolling sun, the changing light,
And night and day, thy pow'r confess;
But the blest volume thou hast writ,
Reveals thy justice and thy grace.
3. Sun, moon, and stars convey thy praise,
Round the whole earth, and never stand;
So, when thy truth begun its race,
It darted light on ev'ry land.
4. Nor shall thy spreading gospel rest,
'Till through the world thy truth has run;
'Till Christ hath all the nations blest'd,
Which see the light or feel the sun.
5. Great sun of righteousness, arise,
Bless the dark world with heav'nly light;
Thy gospel makes the simple wise;
Thy laws are pure, thy judgments right.

The church beholds her Saviour King;
He reigns and triumphs here.
3. How happy are our ears,
That hear this joyful sound,
Which kings and prophets waited for,
And fought, but never found!
4. How blessed are our eyes,
Which see this heav'nly light!
Prophets and kings desir'd it long,
But dy'd without the fight.

And chearful notes employ;
Their Saviour's praise inspires their songs,
And heathens learn the joy.

 And humbly claim the grace.

 Which spoke in ev'ry breath,
 Which crown'd each action of his life,
 And triumph'd in his death.

Thy goodness thro' these veils to see;
Thy table food celestial yields,
And happy they who sit with thee.
4. But O what vast transporting joys,

When, join'd with the celestial train,
Our grateful souls thy love admire!

She reigns in pious breasts alone,
Where heav'nly virtues dwell.

Or, if he lift his chast'ning rod,

Their souls are ever bright, as noon,
And calm, as summer ev'nings be.

Where groves of living pleasure grow !
And pleasing hopes, and chearful smiles,
Sit undisturb'd upon their brow.

 What grateful changes form the year !
 How constant night and day !
3. Next raise thine eye ;——the vast expanse
 A pow'r unbounded shews ;
 See round the sun the planets dance,
 And various worlds compose.
4. Then turn into thyself, O man ;
 With wonder view thy soul ;
 Confess his pow'r who laid each plan,
 And still directs the whole.
5. And let obedience to his laws
 Thy gratitude proclaim,
 To him the first almighty cause ; ——
 JEHOVAH is his name.

PSALM XXVIII. As the 113th Psalm.

Confidence in divine protection.

1. THE LORD my pasture will prepare,
 And feed me with a shepherd's care ;
 His presence will my wants supply,

And

And guard me with a watchful eye;
My noon-day walks he will attend,
And all my midnight hours defend.

2. When in the sultry glebe I faint,
Or on the thirsty mountain pant;
To fertile vales and dewy meads
My weary wand'ring steps he leads;
Where peaceful rivers, soft and slow,
Amid the verdant landskip flow.
3. Tho' in the paths of death I tread,
With gloomy horrors overspread,
My steadfast heart shall fear no ill,
For thou, O LORD, art with me still;
Thy friendly hand will give me aid,
And guide me thro' the dreadful shade.
4. Tho' in a bare and rugged way,
Thro' devious lonely wilds I stray,
Thy bounty shall my pains beguile;
The barren wilderness shall smile,
With sudden greens and herbage crown'd,
And streams shall murmur all-around.

PSALM XXIX. Common Metre.

Confidence in G O D our Father.

1. O GOD, on thee we all depend,
On thy paternal care:
Thou wilt the father and the friend,
In ev'ry act appear.
2. With open hand, and lib'ral heart,
Thou wilt our wants supply;
Thy heav'nly blessings still impart,
And no good thing deny.

3. Our

3. Our Father knows what's good and fit,
And wisdom guides his love ;
To thine appointments we submit,
And ev'ry choice approve.
4. In thy paternal love and care,
With chearful hearts we trust ;
Thy tender mercies boundless are,
And all thy thoughts are just.
5. We cannot want, while God provides ;
What he ordains is best ;
And heav'n, whate'er we want besides,
Will give eternal rest.

P S A L M XXX. Long Metre.

Chearful reliance on providence.

1. GREAT LORD of earth, and seas, and skies,
Thy wealth the needy world supplies :
On thee alone the whole depends,
Thy care to ev'ry part extends.
2. The wastes of life thy pow'r repairs ;
Thy mercy stills tempestuous cares ;
And, safe beneath thy guardian arm,
We live secur'd from ev'ry harm.
3. To thee we chearful homage bring ;
In grateful hymns thy praises sing ;
Direct to thee our waiting eyes,
And humbly look for fresh supplies.
4. We still are indigent and poor,
Indebted much, and wanting more ;
Yet still on thee our souls depend,
The rich, the sure, the faithful friend.

5. And should thy measures seem severe,
 With patience we'll correction bear;
 Without complaint to thee submit,
 Unerring judge of what is fit.

P S A L M XXXI. Short Metre.

Seeking the favour of G O D.

1. MY GOD, permit my tongue,
 This joy, to call thee mine;
 And let my earnest cries prevail,
 To taste thy love divine.
2. For life, without thy love,
 No relish can afford;
 No joy can be compar'd with this,
 To serve and please the LORD.
3. To thee I'll lift my hands,
 And praise thee while I live;
 Not all the dainties of a feast;
 Such food or pleasure give.
4. In wakeful hours of night,
 I call my GOD to mind;
 I think how wise thy counsels are,
 And all thy dealings kind.
5. Since thou hast been my help,
 To thee my spirit flies;
 And, on thy watchful providence,
 My chearful hope relies.
6. The shadow of thy wings
 My soul in safety keeps;
 I follow where my Father leads,
 And he supports my steps.

PSALM XXXII. Long Metre.

Love to G O D.

1. MY God, whose all-pervading eye
Views earth beneath, and heav'n above,
Witness, if here or there, thou seest
An object of my equal love.
2. Not the gay scenes, where mortal men
Pursue their blifs, and find their woe,
Detain my rising heart, which springs
The nobler joys of heav'n to know.
3. Not all the fairest sons of light,
Who lead the army round thy throne,
Can bound its flight ; it presseth on,
And seeks its rest in God alone.
4. Fix'd near th' immortal source of blifs,
Dauntless and joyous, it surveys
Each form of horror and distress,
Which earth, combin'd with hell, can raise,
5. This feeble flesh shall faint and die ;
This heart renew its pulse no more ;
E'en now I see the moment nigh,
When life's last movements shall be o'er.
6. But come, thou vanquish'd King of dread,
With thine own hand thy pow'r destroy ;
'Tis thine to bear my soul to God,
My portion and eternal joy.

P S A L M XXXIII. Common Metre.

Submission under afflictions.

1. NAKED as from the earth we came,
And rose to life at first ;
We to the earth return again,
And mingle with the dust.
2. The dear delights we here enjoy,
And call our own in vain ;
Are but short pleasures borrow'd now,
To be repaid again.
3. 'Tis GOD, who lifts our comforts high,
Or sinks them to the grave ;
He gives, and blessed be his name,
He takes but what he gave.
4. Peace, all our restless passions, then ;
Let each impatient sigh
Be silent, at his sov'reign will,
And ev'ry murmur die.
5. If smiling mercy crown our lives,
Its praises shall be spread ;
And we'll adore the justice too,
Which strikes our comforts dead.

P S A L M XXXIV. Long Metre.

Confidence in the promises of GOD.

1. WE sing the goodness of the LORD,
Who rules his people by his word,
And there as firm as his decrees,
Hath set his kindest promises.

2. Each

2. Each of them is the voice of GOD,
Who spoke and spread the skies abroad;
Each of them pow'rful, as that found,
Which bid the new-made world go round.
3. Whence then should doubts and fears arise?
Why trickling sorrows cloud our eyes?
Slowly, alas! our hope receives
The comforts, which our Maker gives.
4. O for a strong, a lasting faith,
To credit what th' Almighty faith;
T' embrace the message of his son,
And call the joys of heav'n our own!
5. Then, should the earth's old pillars shake,
And all the wheels of nature break;
Our steady souls should fear, no more
Than solid rocks, when billows roar.
6. Our everlasting hopes should rise,
Above the ruinable skies,
Where the eternal builder reigns,
And his own courts his pow'r sustains.

P S A L M XXXV. Short Metre.

Joy in GOD.

1. COME, we who love the LORD,
And let our joys be known;
Join in a song with sweet accord,
And thus surround his throne.
2. The sorrows of the mind
Be banish'd from the place;
Religion never was design'd
To make our pleasures less.

3. The

3. The God who rules on high,
And thunders when he please,
Who rides upon the stormy sky,
And manages the seas :
4. This awful God is ours,
Our father and our love ;
He shall send down his heav'nly pow'rs,
To carry us above.
5. Then shall we see his face,
And never, never sin ;
Then, from the rivers of his grace,
Drink endless pleasures in.
6. Yes, and before we rise
To that immortal state,
The thoughts of such amazing bliss
Should constant joy create.
7. The men of grace have found
Glory begun below ;
Celestial fruits, on earthly ground,
From faith and hope may grow.
8. Then let our songs abound,
And ev'ry tear be dry ;
We're marching, thro' EMMANUEL's ground,
To fairer worlds on high.

P S A L M XXXVI. Common Metre.

Acceptable Worship.

1. GOD is a spirit just and wise ;
He sees our inmost mind ;
In vain to heav'n we raise our cries,
And leave our souls behind.

Our servants there, and rising race,
Be taught thy precepts, and thy grace.

4. O may each future age proclaim
The honours of thy glorious name ;
While, pleas'd and thankful, we remove,
To join the family above.

PSALM XL. Common Metre.

Secret Devotion.

1. FATHER divine, thy piercing eye
Looks thro' the shades of night ;
In deep retirement thou art nigh,
With heart-discerning sight.
2. There shall thy piercing eye survey
My humble worship paid,
With ev'ry morning's dawning ray,
And ev'ry ev'ning's shade.
3. I'll leave behind each earthly care ;
To thee my soul shall soar ;
While grateful praise, and fervent pray'r,
Employ the silent hour.
4. So shall the sun in smiles arise ;
The day shall close in peace ;
So wilt thou train me for the skies,
Where joy shall never cease.

PSALM XLI. Long Metre.

Religion vain without love.

1. HAD I the tongues of Greeks and Jews,
And nobler speech than angels use :
If love be absent, I am found,
Like tinkling brass, an empty sound.

2. Were I inspir'd to preach and tell
All that is done in heav'n and hell,
Or could my faith the world remove,
Still I am nothing without love.
3. Should I distribute all my store,
To feed the bowels of the poor,
Or give my body to the flame,
To gain a martyr's glorious name :
4. If love to God, and love to men,
Be absent, all my hopes are vain :
Nor tongues, nor gifts, nor fiery zeal,
The place of love can ever fill.

P S A L M XLII. Common Metre.

The excellence of love.

1. HAPPY the heart where virtues reign,
Where love inspires the breast ;
Love is the brightest of the train,
And strengthens all the rest.
2. 'Tis love which makes our willing feet
In swift obedience move ;
'The devils know and tremble too,
But Satan cannot love.
3. Love suffers long, with patient eye,
Nor is provok'd in haste ;
She lets the present injury die,
And soon forgets the past.
4. She nor desires, nor seeks, to know
The scandals of the times ;
Nor looks with pride on those below,
Nor envies those who climb.
5. She

5. She lays her own advantage by,
To seek her neighbour's good :
So GOD's own son came down to die,
And sav'd us by his blood.
6. Love is the grace that lives and sings,
When faith and hope shall cease ;
'Tis love shall strike our joyful strings,
In the bright realms of bliss.

P S A L M XLIII. Long Metre.

Love to all mankind.

1. O GOD, my saviour, and my king,
Of all I have or hope the spring!
Send down thy spirit from above,
And warm my heart with holy love.
2. May I from ev'ry act abstain,
Which hurts, or gives my neighbour pain ;
And ev'ry secret wish suppress,
That would abridge his happiness.
3. Still may I feel my heart inclin'd,
To act the friend to all my kind ;
Still with them safety, health and ease,
Wealth, fame, eternal life and peace.
4. With pity let my breast o'erflow,
When I behold a wretch in woe ;
And bear a sympathizing part,
With all who are of heavy heart.
5. And, when another's prosp'rous state
Shall joy within himself create,
Let me too in his triumph join,
And count his peace and pleasure mine.

6. Yea, should my neighbour spiteful prove,
 Still let me vanquish spite with love;
 Slow to resent, tho' he should grieve,
 But always ready to forgive.
7. Let love in all my conduct shine,
 An image fair, tho' faint, of thine:
 Let me thine humble follow'r prove,
 Father of men, great GOD of love.

PSALM XLIV. Common Metre.

Domestic love and happiness.

1. LO, what an entertaining sight
 Are kindred that agree!
 How blest the house, where hearts unite,
 In bands of piety!
2. Where streams of love, from heav'nly springs,
 Descend to ev'ry soul;
 And sacred peace, with balmy wings,
 Shades and bedews the whole.
3. All in their proper stations move;
 And each fulfils his part,
 In all the cares of life and love,
 With sympathizing heart.
4. Their souls are form'd for joy and peace;
 Their hearts and hopes are one;
 And kind designs to serve and please,
 Thro' all their actions run.
5. How happy is the pious house,
 Where zeal and friendship meet;
 Where songs of praise, and mingled vows,
 Make the communion sweet!

6. Such

6. Such pleasure crowns the heav'nly hills ;
 Thus faints are blest above ;
 Where joy like morning dew distils,
 And all the air is love.

P S A L M XLV. Common Metre.

Love to enemies.

1. WHEN, in the form of mortal man,
 The son of God was found,
 With cruel slanders false and vain
 He was encompass'd round.
2. The woes of men his pity mov'd ;
 Their peace he still pursu'd ;
 They render'd hatred for his love,
 And evil for his good.
3. Their malice rag'd without a cause ;
 Yet, with his dying breath,
 He pray'd for murd'ers on his cross,
 And blest'd his foes in death,
4. Lord, shall thy bright example shine
 In vain before mine eyes ?
 Give me a soul akin to thine,
 To love mine enemies.

P S A L M XLVI. Long Metre.

Personal virtues.

1. AWAKE my soul, rouze ev'ry pow'r,
 Thy native dignity display ;
 Let lust and passion reign no more ;
 No longer own their lawless sway.
2. Thy temper meek and humble be,
 Content and pleas'd with ev'ry state,

From

From dire revenge and envy free,
And wild ambition to be great.

3. Confine thy roving appetites ;
From this vain world withdraw thine eyes ;
Fix them on those divine delights,
Which angels taste above the skies.
4. On wings of faith to heav'n ascend ;
By hope anticipate the feast ;
With all thy pow'rs still upwards tend,
And leave to sensual minds the rest.
5. With eager zeal pursue the prize ;
Each fleeting hour of life improve :
This course will speak thee truly wise,
And raise thee to the world above.

PSALM XLVII. Proper Tune.

Contentment.

1. IF solid happiness we prize,
Within our breasts this jewel lies,
And they are fools who roam :
The world has nothing to bestow ;
From our own selves our joys must flow,
And peace begins at home.
2. We'll therefore relish with content,
Whate'er kind providence hath sent,
Nor aim beyond our pow'r ;
And, if our store be very small,
With thankful hearts enjoy it all,
Nor lose the present hour.
3. We'll be resign'd when ills betide,
Patient, when favours are deny'd,

And

And pleas'd with favours giv'n ;
 This is the wise the virtuous part ;
 This is the incense of the heart,
 Whose fragrance reaches heav'n.

4. Thus, crown'd with peace, thro' life we'll go;
 Its chequer'd paths of joy and woe,
 With cautious steps, we'll tread ;
 Quit its vain scenes without a tear,
 Without a trouble or a fear,
 And mingle with the dead :

5. While conscience, like a faithful friend,
 Shall thro' the gloomy vale attend,
 And cheer our dying breath ;
 Shall, when all other comforts cease,
 Like a kind angel, whisper peace,
 And smooth the bed of death.

P S A L M XLVIII. Common Metre.

The temptations of human life.

1. WHEN, in the light of faith divine,
 We look on things below,
 Honour, and gold, and sensual joy,
 How vain and dang'rous too !

2. Honour's a puff of noisy breath ;
 Yet men expose their blood,
 And venture everlasting death,
 To gain that airy food.

3. Whilst others starve the nobler mind,
 And feed on shining dust :
 Celestial treasures they resign,
 T' indulge a sordid lust.

4. The

4. The pleasures that allure our sense
Are dang'rous snares to souls ;
There's but a drop of flatt'ring sweet,
And dash'd with bitter bowls.
5. God is mine all-sufficient good,
My portion and my choice ;
In him my vast desires are fill'd,
And all my pow'rs rejoice.
6. In vain the world accosts my ear,
And tempts my heart anew ;
I cannot buy your blifs so dear,
Nor part with heav'n for you.

PSALM XLIX. Long Metre.

Life the only season of preparation for eternity.

1. LIFE is the time to serve the LORD,
The time t' ensure the great reward ;
And, while the lamp holds out to burn,
The vilest sinner may return.
2. Life is the hour, which God hath giv'n,
To 'scape from hell, and fly to heav'n ;
The day of grace, and mortals may
Secure the blessings of the day.
3. The living know that they must die ;
But all the dead forgotten lie ;
They have no share in all that's done,
Beneath the circuit of the sun.
4. There are no acts of pardon pass'd,
In the cold grave, to which we haste ;
But darkness, death, and long despair,
Reign in eternal silence there.

5. Then

5. Then what my thoughts design to do,
 My hands, with all your might pursue,
 Since no device, nor work is found,
 Nor faith, nor hope, beneath the ground.

PSALM L. Common Metre.

The frailty and importance of human life.

1. THEE we adore, eternal God!
 And humbly own to thee,
 How feeble is our mortal frame,
 What dying creatures we.
2. Our wasting life grows shorter still,
 As months and days encrease;
 And ev'ry beating pulse we tell,
 Still leaves the number less.
3. The year rolls round, and steals away
 The breath, which first it gave;
 Where-e'er we are, whate'er we do,
 We're trav'ling to the grave.
4. Dangers stand thick thro' all the road,
 To push us to the tomb;
 And fierce diseases wait around,
 To hurry mortals home.
5. Good God! on what a slender thread
 Hang everlasting things!
 Th' eternal state of all mankind
 Upon life's feeble strings.
6. Waken, O Lord, our active pow'rs,
 To walk this dang'rous road;
 And, if our souls be hurried hence,
 May they be found with God.

P S A L M LI. Common Metre.

Comfort in sickness and death.

1. WHEN sickness shakes the languid
frame,
Each dazz'ling pleasure flies ;
Phantoms of bliss no more obscure
Our long deluded eyes.
2. Then the tremendous arm of death
Its fatal sceptre shews ;
And nature faints, beneath the weight
Of complicated woes.
3. The tott'ring frame of mortal life
Shall crumble into dust ;
Nature shall faint ; but learn my soul,
On nature's GOD to trust.
4. The man, whose pious heart is fix'd
On his all-gracious God,
From ev'ry frown may draw a joy,
And kiss the chast'ning rod.
5. Nor him shall death itself alarm ;
On heav'n his soul relies ;
With joy he views his Maker's love,
And with composure dies.

P S A L M LII. Common Metre.

A funeral thought.

1. HARK! from the tombs a doleful sound!
My ears, attend the cry :
“ Ye living men, come view the ground,
“ Where you must shortly lie.
2. “ Princes, this clay must be your bed,
“ In

“ In spite of all your tow’rs ;
 “ The tall, the wise, the rev’rend head,
 “ Must lie as low as ours.”

3. Great God ! is this our certain doom ?
 And are we yet secure ?
 Still walking downward to our tomb,
 And yet prepare no more ?

4. Grant us the pow’rs of quick’ning grace,
 To fit our souls to fly ;
 Then, when we drop this dying flesh,
 We’ll rise above the sky.

PSALM LIII. Long Metre.

Death the way whence we shall not return.

1. BEHOLD the path, which mortals tread,
 Down to the regions of the dead !
 Nor will the fleeting moments stay,
 Nor can we measure back our way.
2. Our kindred and our friends are gone ;
 Know, O my soul, this doom thine own ;
 Feeble as theirs my mortal frame ;
 The same my way, my home the same.
3. From vital air, from chearful light,
 To the cold grave’s perpetual night ;
 From scenes of duty, means of grace,
 I must to God’s tribunal pass.
4. Awake, my soul, the way prepare,
 And lose in this each mortal care ;
 With steady feet that path be trod,
 Which, thro’ the grave, conducts to God.

5. Then shall I smile, secure from fear,
 Tho' death should blast the rising year;
 And joy to reach the blissful shore,
 From whence I shall return no more.

PSALM LIV. Common Metre.

Death and eternity.

1. STOOP down, my thoughts, which use
 to rise,
 Converse awhile with death;
 Think how a gasping mortal lies,
 And pants away his breath.
2. His quiv'ring lip hangs feeble down,
 His pulses faint and few;
 Then, speechless, with a doleful groan,
 He bids the world adieu.
3. But oh, the soul that never dies!
 At once it leaves the clay:
 My thoughts, pursue it where it flies,
 And track its wond'rous way.
4. Up to the courts, where angels dwell,
 It mounts, to triumph there!
 Or sinks, reluctant, down to hell,
 In horror and despair.
5. And must my body faint and die?
 And must this soul remove?
 O for some guardian-angel nigh,
 To bear it safe above!
6. My GOD, to thine all-gracious hand
 My deathless soul I trust;
 Nor fear to meet the high command,
 Which calls me back to dust.

P S A L M LV. Common Metre.

The happiness of the dying christian.

1. HEAR what the voice from heav'n pro-
For all the pious dead ; [claims,
Sweet is the favour of their names,
And soft their sleeping bed. /
2. They die in JESUS, and are bless'd ;
How kind their slumbers are !
From suff'rings, and from sins, releas'd,
And freed from ev'ry snare.
3. Far from this world of toil and strife,
They're present with the Lord ;
The labours of their mortal life
End in a large reward.

P S A L M LVI. Common Metre.

A prospect of the resurrection.

1. HOW long shall death the tyrant reign,
And triumph o'er the just ?
How long the blood of martyrs slain
Lie mingled with the dust ?
2. Lo ! I behold the scatt'ring shades ;
The dawn of heav'n appears ;
The bright immortal morning spreads
Its blushes round the spheres.
3. I see the Lord of glory come,
And flaming guards around ;
The skies divide to make him room ;
The trumpet shakes the ground.
4. I hear the voice, " Ye dead, arise ;"
And lo ! the dead obey ;

And

And waking faints, with joyful eyes,
Salute th' expected day.

5. They leave the dust, and, on the wing,
Mount swiftly thro' the air:

In robes of light they meet their King,
And low adore him there.

6. Break, glorious morning, thro' the skies,
These joyful scenes display;

And call our willing souls to rise
To everlasting day.

PSALM LVII. Common Metre.

CHRIST coming to judgment.

1. JESUS, adorn'd with grace divine,
Ascends the judgment-throne;
Thro' heav'n's extended realms above,
He makes his glories known.

2. By his command the trumpet sounds,
And summons to his bar,
The piercing blast shakes heav'n around,
And thunders thro' the air.

3. The earth and seas his orders hear;
Unclos'd is ev'ry tomb;
Th' awaken'd world attend, and fear,
His sentence, and their doom.

4. Before him see the world on fire!
The burning earth and seas,
With mingled ruin, soon expire,
And sink before his face.

5. The saints obedient to his call,
With joy receive their crowns;

The

The wicked into ruin fall,
Beneath his wrathful frowns.

6. How shall I bear that awful day,
And stand the solemn test?

I give all sinful joys away,
To be for ever blest.

PSALM LVIII. Long Metre.

Joy in the prospect of future happiness.

1. THE hope of sinners lies below ;
'Tis all the happiness they know ;
'Tis all they seek ; they take their shares,
And leave the rest among their heirs.

2. What sinners value I resign ;
LORD, 'tis enough that thou art mine ;
I shall behold thy blissful face,
And stand compleat in righteousness.

3. This life's a dream, an empty show ;
But the bright world, to which I go,
Hath joys substantial and sincere ;
When shall I wake and find me there?

4. Then shall I see, and hear, and know,
All I desir'd or wish'd below ;
And ev'ry pow'r find sweet employ,
In that eternal world of joy.

5. O glorious hour ! O blest abode !
I shall be near and like my God ;
And flesh and sense no more controul
The sacred pleasures of the soul.

6. My flesh shall slumber in the ground,
Till the last trumpet's joyful sound ;

Then

Then burst the chains, with glad surprize,
And in my SAVIOUR'S image rise.

PSALM LIX. Common Metre.

Heaven invisible and holy.

1. NOR eye hath seen, nor ear hath heard,
Nor sense, nor reason known,
What joys the Father hath prepar'd,
For those who love the Son.
2. But the good spirit of the LORD
Reveals a heav'n to come ;
The beams of glory, in the word,
Allure and guide us home.
3. Pure are the joys above the sky,
And all the region peace ;
No wanton tongue, nor envious eye,
Can see, or taste, the bliss.
4. Those holy gates for ever bar
Pollution, sin, and shame ;
None shall obtain admittance there,
But foll'wers of the Lamb.

PSALM LX. Common Metre.

The humble worship of heaven.

1. FATHER of all, we long to see
The place of thine abode ;
We'll leave thine earthly courts, and flee
Up to thy seat, O God.
2. We'll part with all the joys of sense,
To view thine heav'nly throne ;
Pleasures spring fresh for ever thence,
Unspeakable, unknown.
3. There

3. There at thy feet, with humble fear,
Th' adoring armies fall;
With joy they shrink to nothing there,
Before th' eternal all.
4. The more thy glories strike our eyes,
The humbler we shall lie;
Thus while we sink, our joys shall rise
Unmeasurably high.

P S A L M LXI. Common Metre.

Support under trouble from the hope of heaven.

1. WHEN I can read my title clear
To mansions in the skies,
I bid farewell to ev'ry fear,
And wipe my weeping eyes.
2. Should foes against my peace engage,
And cruel darts be hurl'd;
Then I could smile at all their rage,
And face a frowning world.
3. Let cares like a wild deluge come,
And storms of sorrow fall;
May I but safely reach my home,
My God, my heav'n, my all:
4. There shall I bathe my weary soul,
In seas of heav'nly rest;
And not a wave of trouble roll,
Across my peaceful breast.

P S A L M LXII. Long Metre.

Desire of heaven.

1. UP to the heav'nly paradise,
Where purest streams of pleasure roll,
B b Fain

- Fain would my nobler passions rise,
But earth and sense oppresses my soul.
2. O might I once mount up, and see
The glories of th' eternal skies,
What little things these worlds would be !
How despicable to mine eyes !
  3. Had I a glance of thee, my God,
Kingdoms and men would vanish soon ;
Vanish, as tho' I saw them not,
As a dim candle dies at noon.
  4. Then they might fight, and rage, and rave,
I should perceive the noise no more,
Than we can hear a shaking leaf,
While rolling thunders round us roar.
  5. Great all in all, eternal King,
My soul aspires to see thy face ;
And all my pow'rs admire, and sing,
Thine endless grandeur, and thy grace.

PSALM LXIII. Common Metre.

The christian race.

1. A WAKE, my soul, stretch ev'ry nerve,
And press with vigour on :
A heav'nly race demands thy zeal,
And an immortal crown.
2. A cloud of witnesses around
Hold thee in full survey :
Forget the steps already trod,
And onward urge thy way.
3. 'Tis God's all-animating voice,
Which calls thee from on high ;

'Tis

'Tis his own hand presents the prize
To thine aspiring eye :

4. That prize, with peerless glories bright,
Which shall new lustre boast,
When victors wreaths, and monarchs gems,
Shall blend in common dust.
5. My soul, with sacred ardour fir'd,
The glorious prize pursue ;
And meet with joy the high command,
To bid this earth adieu.

P S A L M LXIV. Common Metre.

The hope of heaven a support in death,

1. THERE is a land of pure delight,
Where saints immortal reign ;
Perpetual day excludes the night,
And pleasures banish pain.
2. There everlasting spring abides,
And never with'ring flow'rs :
Death, like a narrow sea, divides
This heav'nly land from ours.
3. Sweet fields beyond the swelling flood
Stand dress'd in living green ;
So to the Jews old Canaan stood,
While Jordan roll'd between.
4. But tim'rous mortals start and shrink,
To cross this narrow sea ;
And linger, shiv'ring, on the brink,
And fear to launch away.
5. Oh, could we make our doubts remove,
Those gloomy doubts that rise ;

And view the Canaan that we love,
With unbeccloudéd eyes ;

6. Could we but stand, 'as Moses stood,
And view the landskip o'er ;
Not Jordan's streams, nor death's cold flood,
Should fright us from the shore.

PSALM LXV. Long Metre.

The eternal sabbath.

1. LORD of the sabbath, hear our vows,
On this thy day, in this thine house ;
And own, as grateful sacrifice,
The songs which from thy temple rise.
2. Thine earthly sabbaths, LORD, we love ;
But there's a nobler rest above ;
To that our longing souls aspire,
With chearful hope, and strong desire.
3. No more fatigue, no more distress,
Nor sin nor death shall reach the place ;
No groans shall mingle with the songs,
Which dwell upon immortal tongues.
4. No rude alarms of angry foes ;
No cares to break the long repose ;
No midnight shade, no clouded sun,
But sacred, high, eternal noon.
5. O long expected day, begin ;
Dawn on these realms of pain and sin ;
With joy we'll tread th' appointed road,
And sleep in death, to rest with God.

P S A L M LXVI. Common Metre.

New Year's-day.

1. REMARK, my soul, the narrow bounds
Of the revolving year ;
How swift the weeks compleat their rounds !
How short the months appear !
2. Much of my dubious life is done,
Nor will return again ;
And swift my passing moments run,
The few which yet remain.
3. So fast eternity comes on,
And that important day,
When all that mortal life has done
God's judgment shall survey.
4. Awake, my soul ; with utmost care,
Thy true condition learn ;
What are thy hopes, how sure, how fair,
And what thy chief concern.
5. Devoutly yield thyself to God,
And on his care depend ;
With zeal pursue the heav'nly road,
Nor doubt an happy end.

P S A L M LXVII. Common Metre.

For a fast day in public calamity.

1. WHEN Abra'm, full of sacred awe,
Before JEHOVAH stood,
And, with an humble fervent pray'r,
For guilty Sodom su'd ;
2. With what success, what wond'rous grace,
Was his petition crown'd !

The

The LORD would spare, if in the place
Ten righteous men were found.

3. And could a single pious soul
So rich a boon obtain?

Good GOD! and shall a nation cry,
And plead with thee in vain?

4. Britain, all-guilty as she is,
Her num'rous saints can boast;
See their united pray'rs ascend;—
And shall these pray'rs be lost?

5. Are not the righteous dear to thee
Now, as in ancient times?
Or does this sinful land exceed
Gomorrab in her crimes?

6. Still we are thine, we bear thy name;
Here yet is thine abode;
Long has thy presence blest our land:
For sake us not, O GOD!

7. O may our people, priests, and king,
Thy choicest blessings share;
And know thee by that glorious name,
“The GOD who heareth pray'r.”

PSALM LXVIII. As the 113th Psalm.

For a fast day in war foreign and domestic.

1. O LORD of hosts, almighty king!
May we thy sacred glories sing,
And speak the wonders of thy name?
Earth is thy footstool, heav'n thy throne,
Thine empire spreads thro' worlds unknown,
And all thy works thyself proclaim.

2. Scepters, and shields, and tott'ring crowns,
And kingdoms trembling at thy frowns,
Suspenceful wait their destiny ;
The nations feel thine angry rod,
Guilty, confess the righteous God,
And own the hand that rules on high.
3. From heav'n look down with pitying eyes ;
The tyrants of the earth chastise ;
And quell their furious lawless rage ;
Cause the alarm of war to cease ;
O bless the jarring world with peace,
And angry tumults soon assuage.
4. Crush the oppressors, right maintain,
All oppositions render vain ;
Our armies, fleets and allies bless :
Our counsels guide, our sov'reign guard,
Crown virtue with its due reward,
And give the righteous cause success.

PSALM LXIX. Common Metre.

For a fast day in time of war.

1. HARK ! the loud trumpet of our God
Sounds an alarm of war ;
Attend, O earth ! ye nations, hear,
And tremble from afar.
2. With humble rev'rence, and with awe,
We hear the sacred word ;
And, trembling, own the sentence just,
Which dooms us to the sword.
3. Nor ev'n in war would we repine,
The murd'ring sword to view,

Might

Might the same stroke that wastes the land,
 Destroy its vices too.

4. But we shall hail the happy day,
 Which ends the painful doom;
 When earth shall, like the world above,
 In peace and virtue bloom.

5. Still let our songs declare his name,
 Who guards the British race:
 The God of vengeance we adore,
 And bless the God of grace.

P S A L M LXX. Common Metre.

The Universal Prayer.

1. FATHER of all, in ev'ry age,
 In ev'ry clime, ador'd,
 By faint, by savage, and by sage,
 JEHOVAH, JOVE, or LORD!
2. What conscience dictates to be done,
 Or warns me not to do,
 This, teach me more than hell to shun,
 That, more than heav'n pursue.
3. What blessings thy free bounty gives,
 Let me not cast away;
 For God is paid, when man receives,
 T' enjoy is to obey.
4. Yet not to earth's contracted span
 Thy goodness let me bound;
 Or think thee LORD alone of man,
 When thousand worlds are round.
5. Let not this weak unknowing hand
 Presume thy bolts to throw,

And

And deal damnation round the land,
On each I judge thy foe.

6. If I am right, thy grace impart,
Still in the right to stay ;

If I am wrong, O teach my heart,
To find that better way.

7. Save me alike from foolish pride,
Or impious discontent,

At aught thy wisdom hath deny'd,
Or aught thy goodness lent.

8. Teach me to feel another's woe,
To hide the fault I see ;

That mercy I to others shew,
That mercy shew to me.

9. This day be bread and peace my lot ;——
All else beneath the sun,

Thou know'st if best bestow'd or not ;
And let thy will be done.

10. To thee, whose temple is all space,
Whose altar, earth, sea, skies,

One chorus let all beings raise !
All nature's incense rise !
