

GENESIS

Six Day Creation

1.This earth began by an act of God. He created the heavens and the earth.
2.The earth was only a mass of created matter floating in space, covered with a vapor garment. Everything was dark. Then the Holy Spirit hovered over the vapor, 3.and God said, "Let there be light." And everything was bathed in light.
4God looked at the light and was pleased. Then He separated the light from the darkness, 5.and He called the light Day and the darkness Night. That ended God's activity on the first day of earth, marked off as it is now by nighttime and daytime.
6.The next day God spoke again, "Let an atmosphere encircle the earth instead of water vapor." Instantly, there was a magnificent sky, most of the vapor in the atmosphere disappeared, and the vapor below the atmosphere came together as water covering the whole earth. 8.God called the sky Heaven. This was the second day of His activity on earth, marked off by nighttime and daytime.
9.The next day God said, "Let the water covering the earth be collected in certain places, and in other places let dry land appear." And it happened. 10God called the dry land Earth and the collected waters Seas. And He was pleased with what He had done. 11.Then God said, "Let grass"Let grass appear on the earth as well as plants that produce seeds, and fruit trees with seeds in the fruit so they can reproduce them-selves. And that's what happened.
12Instantly the earth produced fruit-bearing plants and trees in abundance. And God was pleased.
13The nighttime and the daytime marked off the third day.
14Then God said, "Let there be lights in the sky to help make a difference between nighttime and daytime, and let them not only control the days, but also. the seasons and the years. 15.They will be as lights in the sky to shine on the earth." And that's what happened. There were two lights that God made, the larger one to shine during the day and the smaller one to shine at night, together with thou sands of twinkling stars which He had previously made.
1God arranged the way these lights should be and placed them in the sky to brighten the earth 18to make a difference between daytime and nighttime and to separate the light part of each day from the dark part. And God was pleased. 19The nighttime and the daytime made up the fourth day.
20.The following day God said, "Let the bodies of water swarm with all kinds of fish and let the air be filled with all kinds of birds." And that's what happened. 21.Some of the fish God made were huge, but all the fish were created by Him, both big and small, as were all the different kinds of birds. And God was very pleased. 22.Then God blessed the birds and fish, saying, "I'm giving you the ability to reproduce and multiply, so fill the bodies of water with life and the air with song." 23.And the nighttime and the daytime made up the fifth day.
24.The next day God said, "Let various kinds of animals appear on the earth." And that's what happened. 25.He created domestic animals such as cattle, as well as free ones. He made all the animals, large and small and those in between. And once again,God was pleased.
26But this was not the end of His work for that day. Next He said to His Son, "Now let us make beings who look like us and can reflect our thinking and our personality. Let's give them the responsibility of ruling over and caring for the fish, the birds and the animals which we created." 27so they created two human beings, a male and a female, equal but with different functions, to reflect the unity of the Godhead.
28Then God and His Son blessed them and said, "We have given you the capability to produce beings in our image. So be fruitful and multiply. Fill the earth and manage it for us. We have put the two of you in charge of the fish, the birds and all the animals that walk the earth." 29Then God told them what to eat, saying, "For food, we have given you fruit-bearing plants. There is ample food for you and your offspring. 30.There is also plenty of food for the animals, birds and all the other living things which we created.They will eat what the earth producesJust as you will." And that's how it was.
31 Then God looked at everything He had created through His Son, and it was very good. And the nighttime and the daytime made up the sixth day.
